

After sitting for just over seven months Canada's Parliament has adjourned. Under other circumstances Parliament would prorogue, but Prime Minister King has said he will recall members to consider the St. Lawrence waterways agreement as soon as it has passed the United States Congress. In the face of the grave situation confronting the whole Empire, it is but natural for Canadians to ask: What has Parliament done? Direction of the war effort has been affected by Parliamentary action in one major aspect—the budget. Otherwise the war policy and regulations in connection therewith have been very largely carried out by order-in-council. . . . WHAT HAS PARLIAMENT DONE since the House reconvened last November? It has considered and taken action on some 97 bills. Of the bills brought before the House, 58 were private bills and 10 were public bills introduced by private members. Less than 30 bills were sponsored by the Government. Several bills were necessary amendments to existing legislation. Others were necessary but of minor importance. The major legislation brought before the House by the Government arose out of the budget as brought down by Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Minister of Finance. There was the succession duty act; the income war tax act; and an amendment to the excess profits tax act. . . . Nearly all the bills introduced by the Government had to do, directly or indirectly, with the war effort, and in particular with financing the war effort. Aside from the budget and the legislation implementing its provisions, measures taken to further the prosecution of the war are found in the ORDERS-IN-COUNCIL tabled in the House. It is apparent from an examination of these orders (many are passed but few are tabled) that much of the war effort is arranged for or accomplished in this way. Through this medium the Government, this session, has regulated or created a multitude of war agencies. It set up the Wartime Housing Ltd. to relieve the acute housing shortage in a number of war industry localities. It has established Wartime Merchant Shipping Ltd. to build vitally needed cargo vessels for the Atlantic and other trade routes. It has created the Wartime Requirements Board supposedly to bring about order in meeting requirements for essential materials. But the Board is already defunct. It has regulated the marketing of dairy products, and provided minimum butter prices and a bonus on cheese. Oil regulations have been formulated. A steel controller has been appointed. New models of automobiles, refrigerators, radios, etc., have been "frozen." Regulations have been laid down respecting machine tools. A plan for marketing apples has been set up. Similar arrangements have been made for canned lobster. A bonus has been provided for wheat acreage production. . . . Export of fir logs has been prohibited. Fixed prices for timber were established. All these things were done by order-in-council. . . . Government by order-in-council did not end there. A director-general of priorities was authorized and given wide powers. The Government also made it obligatory to secure a licence on new building in order to restrict consumption of materials and the use of skilled labor on non-essential projects. Controls were set up for exports on basis of destination. This involved another order-in-council covering an export permit branch of the department of trade and commerce. Regulations were laid down respecting ship repairs. An order was issued "freezing" wages at the 1926-1929 level and providing for a cost-of-living bonus in lieu of an increase in the basic wage rate for industries coming under the industrial disputes investigation act. Patents and industrial designs have been more or less "enlisted" for the duration and an order was issued protecting the owners. Orders-in-council were issued respecting purchasing on behalf of the Governments of Belgium, Netherlands and Greece. Many other, and less important, orders were issued all having to do directly and indirectly with the war effort. . . . The decentralization of Parliamentary authority have gone a step further. In addition to direct legislative action by Parliament or the issuing of an order-in-council a number of controllers have been given mandatory powers by the Government. These controllers have, in the main, issued very few orders. This does not indicate inactivity on their part. They have regulated by suggestion or agreement with those concerned. Hence, it has not been necessary for them to issue many orders. Despite the lack of orders, the controllers have been responsible for putting into effect many regulations designed to conserve foreign exchange, materials necessary for the war effort. Through the media of legislation, orders-in-council and regulation by the controllers, there has been a strengthening and furthering of the Dominion's war effort.

Bestowal of a British peerage upon the distinguished Canadian, who was long known to us as R. B. Bennett, sets the crown upon an eminent and meritorious career and deserves acclaim as a fitting award by the mass of the Canadian public regardless of party affiliations. Mr. Bennett had been the architect of his own fortunes, which started from modest beginnings. Throughout a long and interesting life-journey he kept steadily before him the ideal of service to his country and his fellow-men. Indeed, it is today one of our great national misfortunes that in this wide Dominion there is so deplorable a scarcity of able young men who are animated by the same zeal for public service as inspired young Richard Bennett to enter political life at the early age of 28 as soon as he had secured a reasonable foothold in the legal profession of Calgary. His career shows what a combination of mental ability, industry and courage can achieve, and we would fain hope that the pinnacle of success to which it has now attained will lead many young Canadians to emulate his example, and give freely of their talents and time to the promotion of their country's welfare. Lord Bennett, as he must now be called, was always a fighting politician, who could give and take hard blows, but, although he bore the Conservative label, he was no bigoted slave to its creeds, and as Prime Minister he often showed a fine capacity for rising above party prejudices and blazing new trails of policy. Some of us often found occasion to criticize the wisdom of his utterances and policies, but we always had a great respect for his abilities and an admiration for his courage and faculty for swift action. He is now in the autumn of life, but his intellectual powers are unimpaired, and he should be a valuable recruit to the House of Lords, as he will bring to it informed knowledge of the whole North American continent such as none of his new colleagues can possess and a rich fund of experiences in the problems of Imperial politics and of practical administration.

DELEGATION TO VISIT VICTORIA ON FERRY TOPIC

President R. G. Rutherford and J. D. Whitham to Interview Hon. C. S. Leary and Premier T. D. Pattullo

CIRCULATE PETITION
Seek Lower Ferry Rates and Longer Hours of Service—Not Satisfied With Mr. Leary's Talk Here

The Kelowna Board of Trade executive committee expressed its dissatisfaction with the reaction of Hon. C. S. Leary, Minister of Public Works, when he discussed the question of reduction of ferry tolls and lengthening of hours of service with the Board of Trade at a luncheon session in Kelowna two weeks ago.

On Tuesday morning, the Board executive committee reiterated its stand on this subject in another letter to Mr. Leary, and to point out once more the necessity of reducing the ferry tolls in consideration of the tourist reaction to the charge of seventy-five cents.

The Minister will also be informed again of the necessity of longer hours of ferry service across Okanagan Lake.

Besides writing to Victoria, President R. G. Rutherford and J. D. Whitham, Transportation Chairman, will call on Hon. C. S. Leary and Premier T. D. Pattullo, when they are at Victoria next week.

It was decided on Tuesday that a petition would be circulated in the district this week, making strong representations to the Provincial Government regarding the need for a better deal for motorists across Okanagan Lake from Kelowna to the west side.

President Rutherford and Mr. Whitham will arm themselves with these petitions when they go to Victoria, so that they can show the Government that not only does the Board of Trade desire this change but the general public of the Kelowna district is awake to the necessity of further action.

E. T. Abbott told the Board of Trade on Tuesday that he had had the assurance of Mr. Leary and his departmental heads that more adequate toll facilities would be instituted immediately on the west side for the convenience of the travelling public.

Mr. Abbott had stressed this need when Mr. Leary visited Kelowna a short time ago.

WILL ATTEND GYRO FUNCTION
A number of Kelowna Gyros will attend the international gyro convention which will be held next week in Victoria. The dates are from June 25 to 28. Among those who will attend this big affair are Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Whitham, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Gaddes, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fitch and Leath, Mr. and Mrs. Underhill, who is now a member of the R.C.A.F. Medical Corps, in Vancouver, will be joined by Mrs. Underhill at the coast and expects to attend the Victoria convention, while Dr. L. A. Day, another Kelowna Gyro now with the Canadian Army Dental Corps, will be present from Esquimalt, with Mrs. Day.

More Than $10,000 Invested in War Savings Certificates Last Month in Kelowna District

This Figure Tops all Previous Records—Payroll Plan is Popular in City—Eight Firms Credited with Hundred Per Cent Employee Investment—Sums Increase Each Month

DOMINION headquarters of the War Savings Committee has reported to the local committee that during the month of May the Kelowna district had invested $10,772 in the fight for freedom through the medium of War Savings Certificates. This figure tops all previous monthly totals and indicates that the returns from the payroll savings plan of purchasing the baby war bonds is beginning to make itself felt.

Of this amount, $9,936.00 was subscribed in Kelowna itself; $5,512 was accounted for through the payroll plan; $2,948 was purchased through the medium of bank pledges, while the persons who pledged themselves to buy on the honor pledge basis kept faith with themselves to the extent of $2,576.

In the surrounding district, $1,836 was subscribed. This amount was made up of $104 on the payroll plan, $756 on the bank pledge plan, and $976 on the honor pledge plan.

CANADIAN SOLDIERS GIVE PLANE TO R.A.F.

Canada's 1st Division overseas has presented a Spitfire fighter to the Royal Air Force. After the presentation ceremony at an airfield somewhere in England, the division commander, Major-General G. R. Pearkes, inspected the fighter station. Major-General Pearkes is shown here, right, with Air Vice-Marshal J. M. Andrews. The Spitfire given by the Canadian soldiers is in the background.

Bings for Processing Rather Than Fresh Fruit Trade Sought

B.C. Tree Fruits Suggests All Bings be Picked Now for Processing Rather Than Risk Continued Wet Weather and Splitting—Processed Price up Fifty Per Cent—Few Bings for Fresh Fruit Market—Only Eighty-five Cars of Winesaps Left in Valley—Expect to Sell Entire Balance

DUE to an emergency situation which has arisen with regard to the cherry crop, B.C. Tree Fruits on Wednesday morning issued permission to the cherry growers of the Okanagan that they could pick one hundred per cent of their Bing crop for processing purposes. "This may mean that very few Bings will be shipped to the fresh fruit market," declared Dave McNair, Tree Fruits Sales Manager, to The Courier yesterday afternoon.

LEGION PIPE BAND GUESTS OF HONOR
In appreciation of their efforts on May 24th and other similar occasions, the Canadian Legion Pipe Band was honored at a banquet tendered by the Gyro Club of Kelowna at the Royal Anne Hotel, on Tuesday evening. President J. D. Whitham presided.

The Gyro Club to the Band, and the members were introduced by Geo. Reith. The Holitsky sisters provided the main entertainment feature of the evening with their popular guitar numbers.

Higher Prices
The price on processed cherries is fifty per cent higher than last year and a certain percentage of moderate splits can be utilized at about half the price of No. 1's.

"Shipments to the fresh fruit markets have been almost entirely confined to the Oliver district and the volume had been raised until on Tuesday 500 crates were shipped."

The wet weather on Tuesday night and Wednesday morning put a damper on cherry picking but it will go forward in full force today provided the weather is right. If there is a sudden hot spell, the cherry crop will be ruined unless it is removed speedily, growers are cautioned.

All the Royal Annes, Deacons and Windors are being processed as well as the quantity of Bings which will go to these plants.

Pickers Wanted
On Tuesday evening, B.C. Tree Fruits broadcasted an appeal for pickers in the district from Kelowna south. The employment agencies in Kelowna and Penticton offered their utmost co-operation and volunteered to be clearing agencies for growers wishing pickers and those who wish to assist in taking the fruit from the trees.

However, up to mid-afternoon yesterday not a single grower had made a request for pickers at the Kelowna office and no one had volunteered to go into the orchards for picking.

The Kelowna Employment Office telephone is 402 and coincides with the Relief Office on Bernard Avenue.

Apriort picking will commence next week and should be extensive by July 1. Mr. McNair stated, dependent on the weather.

First crop lettuce is out of the way and cleaned up in its entirety and small quantities of the second crop are being picked.

INVITE COMMISSIONER
The Kelowna Board of Trade has asked Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, British High Commissioner to Canada, to come to this city to address a joint meeting of the Boards of Trade of the Okanagan Valley. Mr. MacDonald is now at the coast.

Curfew for Children May Be Instituted in Kelowna

Kelowna may soon have a curfew for children, following a recommendation made by Sgt. A. Macdonald, of the B. C. Police, to the City Council on Monday. Each alderman agreed in principle with the idea of a curfew, but the age of the children affected and the time of the curfew has not been settled. The Council is considering this action because of complaints that they tots have been found roaming the streets at a late hour, and their parents do not take any apparent notice of their whereabouts. Information will be obtained from other interior communities regarding their regulations in connection with curfews.

KELOWNA WOMAN SUFFERS BROKEN HIP IN ACCIDENT

Mrs. W. Guerard, Sr., in Abbotsford Hospital After Kelowna Car Turns Over On Highway

Mrs. W. Guerard, Sr., is in an Abbotsford hospital suffering from a broken hip as the result of a motor accident which occurred on Tuesday afternoon near Abbotsford. She was a passenger in a car containing five Kelowna persons which turned over on the No. 1 highway to Vancouver.

No other car was involved in the accident, it is believed here. Passengers in the car were Mr. and Mrs. W. Guerard, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rodgers, and Mrs. Roy Hunt.

Mr. Guerard is said to have received slight injuries but Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers and Mrs. Hunt escaped with a shaking up. Mrs. Rodgers was driving the car at the time of the accident.

TOURIST BUREAU TRIAL ARRANGED FOR JULY 3-4

J. N. Cushing to Conduct Bureau Near Sicomous for Okanagan Tourist Bureau

On July 3 and 4, the Okanagan Valley Tourist Bureau will conduct a trial information bureau near Sicomous on the Trans-Canada Highway leading to Revelstoke. J. N. Cushing, of Kelowna, has consented to operate this stand, to estimate the number of tourists who stop to enquire about the Okanagan and the general results of the two days.

If his findings prove adequate, the Bureau is prepared to operate a permanent information bureau, beside the highway for the two busy tourist months of July and August.

Speaking to the Board of Trade executive on Tuesday morning, President R. G. Rutherford remarked on the fine spirit of co-operation which is being evidenced in the workings of this Bureau. He stated that the members never fail to be on time for the scheduled meetings and the charge main committees representative are working as one unit in an attempt to better the Okanagan as a whole from a tourist standpoint.

TRADE LICENCE APPLICATIONS

City Council Grants Three New Licences

Several trade licence changes and applications came before the City Council on Monday evening, but were dealt with in each case as the applicant desired.

Milo Hessegrave stated that his shooting gallery business ended in December, 1940, and that he should not be required to take out a licence this year. The Council concurred.

Mrs. Hester Irwin notified the Council that she is inaugurating a restaurant business at 245 Bells Street, in the new Greyhound bus terminal. She forwarded $10 for the half-yearly licence and gave notice that the usual $500 traders' bond would be forthcoming shortly.

A P. Pettipiece applied for renewal of the $5 trade licence as an investment agent. This request was granted.

J. Rossi, for his Kelowna Kummy Court, applied for a trade licence for rooms to rent. There are 22 available rooms in his cabins, and the licence fee is $5.50.

SCHOOL TRAFFIC PATROL HONORED

Will Harper, Manager of the Empire Theatre, and the Kelowna Junior Board of Trade played hosts last evening to members of the Schoolboy Traffic Patrol. The students were guests at the theatre and afterwards were provided with refreshments.

Arrangements were made by the Junior Board and Mr. Harper volunteered free admissions to the theatre in view of the latest excellent work in protecting school children and all pedestrians in the school zone.

This patrol has carried on its work in a quiet manner for the past year and has reached a high point in efficiency. The Junior Board was, in part, responsible for the inauguration of the patrol and has kept a watchful eye on its progress ever since.

Okanagan Division First In B. C. To Top Loan Quota

Sets Example for Entire Province by Oversubscribing 1941 Victory Loan by $136,600—Kelowna Top Subscriber with $40,000 More than High Quota of $255,000—Orchard City Oversubscribed by Saturday Night and Sets New Objective of $381,000—Only Two Units not yet Reached up to Objective—Dominion Quota Expected to be Reached by Friday

Capt. C. R. Bull Urges Further Effort

NOT only was the Okanagan division the first division in British Columbia to exceed its 1941 Victory Loan campaign quota, but it has now gone over the top by $136,600, the local Victory Loan office revealed to The Courier on Wednesday evening. Kelowna unit in the Okanagan was, to a large extent, responsible for this splendid showing, for this unit has a surplus over its quota of $40,800. All but two of the Okanagan units have exceeded their quotas. Last night the Okanagan division showed a grand total of $1,436,600 subscribed to the Victory Loan and of this amount the Kelowna unit has loaned $295,800.

CAPT. BULL'S MESSAGE

"Every individual should throw his every dollar into the fight before it is too late," Capt. C. R. Bull, chairman of the Kelowna Victory Loan Committee, said on Wednesday in making a final appeal to the people of this district to subscribe to the loan.

"It is true," he said, "that we have gone over the top in magnificent style. But even so, it is not good for the saving of oneself and one's neighbor and our way of life from the dastardly tyranny of German slavery? It is actually a testing time for capital, and the future course of our economic life would seem to depend to a large extent upon the part capital plays in this struggle. Men with money are expected to know how to use it, and if they do not know that, they surely are not entitled to have it."

"Purchasing Victory Loans is such an elemental action that it is difficult to understand why any person would refrain from doing his utmost. If there are those who haven't. Can it be that these people are so foolish as to hope they can retain their holdings should we lose this war? Or is it that they hope we will win without blood and tears and sweat of other people but not of themselves?"

"The Germans expect to win this war this year, not only because of their immense superiority of planes and mechanized equipment, but because they believe that the British Turn to Page 5, Story 2

By units, the Okanagan division has subscribed as follows: Kelowna ($295,800); Armstrong ($90,000) $72,400; Hedderby ($45,000) $48,950; Hedy ($20,000) $20,000; Kelowna ($255,000) $295,800; Keremec ($30,000) $12,500; Oliver ($30,000) $30,000; Osoyoos ($5,000) $6,450; Penticton ($255,000) $273,200; Princeton ($60,000) $81,650; Revelstoke ($93,000) $135,650; Salmon Arm ($93,000) $104,100; Summerland ($100,000) $80,350; Vernon ($245,000) $245,250.

According to word received from Bruce Samis, Okanagan Division Organizer, Oliver just reached its quota Wednesday night and Vernon went over its quota yesterday by $250. Thus, only Armstrong and Summerland have not reached their minimum objectives. It was stated yesterday, however, that official confirmation here, that Summerland's quota had been dropped to $85,000 as a further checkup revealed that the original sum of $100,000 was out of line.

the tongue of a country with which we are at war."

Ald. Hughes-Games' suggestion that each city department check on its employees was accepted by the Council as a sound scheme.

Speak English . . .
Some City Employees Are Said to be Speaking Foreign Tongue

Employees of the City of Kelowna should be forced to speak the English language, the Sons of England and Sons of Britain urged the City Council on Monday, and the city fathers concurred in this contention. In the present circumstances, the organization pointed out, to have city employees conversing in a foreign tongue is "very objectionable."

City Engineer H. A. Blakeborough informed the Council that none of the permanent staff ever conversed in a foreign tongue, and it was seldom he had ever heard any employees speak in other than the English language.

Ald. R. F. Parkinson replied that it was sometimes the relief workers who were to blame for this. He had heard several complaints of this nature and he considered some check should be made.

Acting Mayor O. L. Jones stated: "It would be very ill advised for any employee of the city to speak and take it over, Ald. Hughes-Games stated. This city father said he was loath to introduce such a touchy subject, but he felt that it was only his duty so to do.

Ald. O. L. Jones, who was Acting Mayor in the absence of Mayor G. A. McKay, on holidays, wished to have conscription of wealth added to Ald. Hughes-Games' motion regarding conscription of manpower, but Ald. G. W. Sutherland objected to such an addition.

Consequently, when the manpower resolution was passed unanimously, the resolution on wealth was put to the meeting and also received wholehearted endorsement. The two resolutions followed:

"That this Council favors the conscription of all manpower for military and industrial purposes in the national emergency."

"That this Council is in favor of mobilizing by compulsion if necessary, all financial resources of the country for the successful prosecution of the war."

Council Favors Conscription Of Manpower and Wealth

Unanimous Vote Recorded for Two Measures — Says Recruiting Drive is Hindered Indirectly

Without a dissenting vote, the Kelowna City Council went on record on Monday evening in favor of the Canadian Government conscripting manpower and wealth for the efficient prosecution of the war. These two subjects were not dealt with at one time but, were comprised in two separate motions, as it was considered that the issue should not be confused by joining them together.

Ald. W. B. Hughes-Games introduced the subject of recruiting for the Canadian Army and pointed out that there are a great many foreigners in the Kelowna district who are not enlisting. He intimated that they are, indirectly a deterrent to the recruiting campaign, as many young men do not wish to leave their steady employment if they feel that a foreigner will walk in and take it over, Ald. Hughes-Games stated. This city father said he was loath to introduce such a touchy subject, but he felt that it was only his duty so to do.

Plain Speaking

Frankly it is time for some very plain speaking to some people.

It is true that Kelowna has reached its objective of $255,000 but that fact should make a great many people in this town blush when they think what they have done towards it.

A quota is a mark to shoot at but it isn't a stationary thing. Our new quota is $318,000 and it should be reached without any difficulty.

That is, if those who haven't done so yet pitch in and do their part.

And a lot of people haven't played their part.

Perhaps a mistake was made when it was decided not to publish the names of those who subscribed and the amounts of their subscriptions.

Such a list would make very interesting reading and give many a guilty heartburn to many. Does the general public realize that there are many individuals with money in the bank, considerable money in some cases, who have actually refused to subscribe?

It would be somewhat of a surprise if their names were revealed.

Does the public know that there are some people who are trying to get under the wire with the merest trifle of a subscription when theirs should run into many hundreds or several thousands of dollars?

Well, this is a free country, and we can't use coercion.

We are fighting for freedom, and some of us lending money for the fight—a fight to save freedom for these slackers as well as for ourselves.

But—we are putting it straight to those whom we have mentioned—think it over again and subscribe—before it is too late. You have three days to do it in.

Not all the money you are keeping sealed up—for what, God knows—will be any good to you if Victory is not achieved.

And this goes for the man we heard of the other day who is going to buy an expensive car "because the government is going to take all his money away anyway."

And it also goes for one of the largest operators in this district who is patting himself on the back because he purchased a hundred dollar bond.

This also goes for the man who refused to purchase Victory Bonds because he had a "pieve" against the Government. God help him, he was too dumb to realize he was taking out his pieve on himself.

There was an old Bible story, the keynote of which was: "Thou fool, this night shall thy soul be required of thee."

Shall we say: "You fools, today conscience requires of you that you save your soul, your freedom, and that of your neighbor?"

No Cause For Pride

Once again Kelowna is meeting the call. This city has a precious reputation in that it is known throughout the province as a place which never fails to do its share in any worthy undertaking. It has won this reputation over a period of years during which it indicated its patriotism and civic consciousness by making a ready and adequate response to any worthwhile appeal and a good job of any civic undertaking.

Such results as obtained in the War Activities effort, the War Savings drive and the present Victory Loan campaign, to mention only three, are not achieved easily. They represent good planning and hard work by an army of canvassers but, more, they are indicative of a general attitude that permeates the whole population. Co-operation, hardwork and a broad sympathetic outlook on the part of the general public are the ingredients that Kelowna uses in her recipe of success.

While the fact that Kelowna was the first of the larger Interior cities to reach its Victory Loan objective is a source of some satisfaction, the fact that we did reach our objective is actually nothing of which to be proud. Rather it would have been a matter of shame had we fallen down. There is nothing to boast about when we do our patriotic duty, buy insurance for the future or selfishly buy the most gilt-edged investment it is possible to purchase. And Victory Loan subscriptions are nothing else than just these things. Had we failed to do these logical things, we would have had just reason for hiding our heads in shame.

Too Many Quislings

There are too many Quislings in Kelowna and in Canada. Not that these Quislings would recognize themselves but it is time they got wise to what they are doing. Most of them could be labelled "Unintentional Quislings," but nevertheless Quislings they are.

The Unintentional Quislings are those people who seize upon some story of government or army inefficiency, smack their lips over a juicy tidbit, flavor it with a few added details of their own and pass it along to a dozen friends as "gospel truth." They do not pause to analyse the story nor do they make any attempt to trace the story back to see if it has any foundation in fact. If they did they would find that nine-tenths of these rumors have absolutely no foundation in fact and the other tenth of the rumors are correct in all except about ninety-nine per cent of their details.

But to check on one of these rumors would spoil a good story and what does it matter. A friend's aunt's son's cousin told it to his erstwhile girl-friend, so it must be true. Anyway, all the spreading of false rumors does is to undermine morale, shake confidence in the government and play Hitler's game just as he would like it played. So why spoil the story?

For that is just what these rumor mongers do. They give a false and discouraging picture of our war effort. Every word tears down the structure of democracy, creates unrest and discord, arouses distrust and suspicion in the integrity and ability of our government, its leaders and their policies.

And no less are they Quislings who advance as sound money reforms the idea that the money needed for our war effort could be created by the government, without there being need for heavy taxation and loans. These people discourage people from making sacrifices and giving up luxuries and because our banking system stands as a bulwark of a free economic system, these people are making constant attacks upon it, aid at sabotaging our whole economic structure by destroying the chartered banks which are rendering a great national service to the country.

We may as well realize at once that there is no easy way to win this war. "Blood and sweat and tears," Churchill said, meaning grim determination and bitter self-denial. The war cannot be won by printing-press money, ledger entries or what-not, while we go on enjoying ourselves and shirking our individual responsibilities. Hitler likes this sort of propaganda as it encourages self-indulgence, self-interest and greed, and tends to bring about the economic collapse through unsound policies.

Many of these rumors are inspired by subversive agents, some started by—God help them!—thoughtless fools and other thoughtless fools repeat them. The "economic-change advocates" are serving Hitler's purpose well—and without pay. Insidious propaganda is being used in Canada now, and it is the responsibility of every loyal Canadian to be on guard against it. If rumor-mongers and whining gossips would concentrate on how they, themselves, could better serve Canada, they would be of some use to the country in its hour of need, instead of helping Hitler by strengthening his vicious attacks on our morale and upon our determination to win at all costs.

Subversive activities must be stopped. They help Germany and they hinder the forward surge of our war effort. The pity of it is that most of the Unintentional Quislings are actually patriotic, though thoughtless, citizens.

Don't be a Quisling. Next time you hear a rumor of this type, doubt it; ask who started it; look at it from the common-sense point of view; don't repeat it unless you KNOW it to be true—and not even then. Do not be an Unintentional Quisling, a Hitler-tool.

FUNCTIONS OF THE PRESS

This is one of a series of editorials specially designed to acquaint our readers with the various functions of the Press in a democratic community.

The Press And Propaganda

One of the ever present dangers in the publishing field is the possibility of becoming a propaganda agency for some group or cause. Editors guard carefully against this possibility, and their efforts to be fair sometimes incur the displeasure of those whose propaganda they refuse to propagate. Of course there are two kinds of propaganda—good and bad. The word propaganda has been much abused in the past few years and to the man on the street propaganda now seems to mean exclusively that type of news sent out by the enemy to confuse and confound those who read it.

Propaganda is actually the method adopted for the propagation of doctrines and principles, either religious or secular. If there is such a thing as good propaganda the question naturally arises, why does the newspaper not become a propaganda agency for all propaganda that is good? As a matter of fact the newspaper does become such an agency in a broad sense, but not in just the way that some propagandists would have it. For instance, any religious sect might consider its propaganda good, and therefore entitled to space in the newspaper. An important factor is overlooked, however, in this reasoning. Propaganda espoused and supported by a newspaper must be of a type generally beneficial to the community as a whole. It would not be fair or ethical to use the propaganda of one church, where there are perhaps half a dozen churches in the same community.

Then too, there is often confusion in the minds of many people as to what is news and what is propaganda. For instance, an item relating to an actual event which took place in a church, or a lodge, or a service club would be news. On the other hand, an item which sought to impress the reader with the principles or the doctrine of the organization would be propaganda. In short, propaganda is that type of news-matter which seeks to proselytize or convert the reader to one particular code of ethics, principles or doctrine.

The position of the newspaper is clear on this point. The newspaper is representative of the whole community, and while its editor or publisher might be an Anglican, Baptist, Presbyterian, United Churchman, or Roman Catholic, it would not be fair to give undue prominence to the doctrines of the sect to which he belongs. News is another matter. If more news comes in from the United Church because it has more organizations, or because its press secretaries are more wide awake, then naturally that church would receive more space in the paper than the Anglican or Baptist if those churches were not so well organized or did not possess good press secretaries.

Weekly newspapers depend to a very large extent upon correspondents and press secretaries for news items, and this being the case it is timely to remind correspondents and secretaries that the newspaper is interested primarily in the news, and not in acting as an agency for the dissemination of their principles. This reasoning, however, does not preclude the newspaper drawing attention to any special effort made by any organization or institution within the community.

To sum up the attitude of the press toward propaganda, it should be clearly understood that the press is interested in the events concerning organizations, rather than the ethics or principles which attract one to membership in these groups.

Brief Backgrounds in the Careers of Canada's Captains in War.

Soldier's soldier and born for the job is Major-General Beverly Woon Browne, D.S.O., M.C., who is Adjutant-General. "Sam Browne" the old soldiers call him. From the Atlantic to the Pacific, he has been a favorite.

"If he tells you to go out on a job, well, you not only know it's all right, but you feel you can do it," they say.

As an army officer, he's a "natural." He was born in Hayesville, Waterloo County, Ontario, educated in what was then "Berlin" is now Kitchener. At 17 he was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the 29th Infantry, Militia.

He went out to Vancouver in 1908, thoroughly enjoyed a measurable success as a youthful financier concerned with real estate and building enterprises.

Prior to the first world war, he was a Lieutenant in the 72nd Seaforth Highlanders, and proceeded overseas in August, 1914, with the 18th Battalion, which was partly composed of the 72nd Seaforth Highlanders.

General Browne went through four full years of war, sampling every sort of military experience in France, without a wound or a day's sickness. Outside of the "bad spots," the war was for him a "great show." Three mentions in dispatches, Military Cross and Distinguished Service Order are testimony of the sort of soldier he made, but even better evidence is the regard in which he is held by the men who served under him.

He rose to be A.A. and Q.M.G. of the 1st Division in France, and after the Armistice stayed behind to wind up the Division's affairs in France and Belgium, only returning to Canada in October, 1919.

By that time Beverly Browne knew that his proper niche in life was the Army, and he settled down in the permanent force, going to Kingston as D.A.A. and Q.M.G. of Military District No. 3. He did two years with the Princess Pat's in Victoria, and then went to Toronto as D.A.A. and Q.M.G. Military District No. 2. From 1922 to 1931 he was Assistant Director of Organization, Ottawa.

After that Lieutenant-Colonel Browne spent six and a half very happy years in Montreal where he enjoyed not only his work, but a great deal of good sport and the peculiar flavor that unique city has due to the admixture of French Canadian and English cultures and peoples.

Six months in Military District No. 1, London, as A.A. and Q.M.G. District Officer Commanding, Military District No. 10, Winnipeg, from May 1939, to June, 1940.

General Browne enjoys every form of sport that produces good competition and good companionship with men, from Association football to badminton, golf and curling. But these diversions are merely pleasant memories today. The post of Adjutant General in Ottawa is one where hours are fantastic. It has been all day and every day till midnight, Saturdays and Sundays included.

The Adjutant General's job is administration on the personnel side, appointments, mobilization, and organization of all types of units. General Browne tackles this vast responsibility with gusto and confidence that Canada possesses the right sort of men for the tasks that need to be done.

Kelowna In Bygone Days

(From the files of the Kelowna Courier)

THIRTY YEARS AGO
Thursday, June 8, 1911

"For the convenience of persons desiring to use small motors for a short time weekly or for such purposes as electrical ironing—a boon to busy housewives, we have decided to supply power through the lighting system on Wednesday afternoon, between the hours of 1 and 5 p.m."

In a lacrosse match played at Vernon on June 1st, the Kelowna team was swamped by the Vernon twelve, who scored seven goals as against no tally for Kelowna.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Thursday, June 2, 1911

"Major E. J. Maguire began his duties on Wednesday as census enumerator for the city of Kelowna. The work has to be completed within two weeks."

"There was a slight frost in parts of the district on Tuesday night, May 27, but the damage done was small and was confined chiefly to low lying places, which are always more or less subject to such visitations. The blossom has set splendidly and there is every prospect of a bumper fruit crop."

"The level of the lake is very much higher this season than it has been for a number of years past, and considerable damage has been done to the lakeshore road between Summerland and Penticton. The high water level is said to be due to the control gates on the Okanagan River being kept closed until recently."

The new recreation ground in the City Park got away to a good start on Victoria Day, May 24th, when the commodious grand stand was filled to its capacity of some 700 persons, who enjoyed a good program of sport, including football, baseball and lacrosse in addition to senior and junior athletic events and Fire Brigade competition. The weather was of the best, and the gate receipts totalled nearly $1,200.

TEN YEARS AGO
Thursday, June 4, 1931

Sixty-one golfers, representative of the entire Interior, took part in the Trench and McEwan events on Wednesday, June 3rd, in ideal weather. The Trench Trophy was captured by H. Pearn, of Vernon, while S. McGladdery, of Kelowna, won the McEwan Cup.

Two hundred and fifteen Brownies, Girl Guides and Guides assembled at Kelowna on Saturday, May 30th, for a rally. Some of them came from as far away as Princeton. A programme of drills, games and exercises was carried on for two hours in the Scout Hall under the supervision of Mrs. A. E. Morrell, Provincial Commissioner, Victoria, and several District Commissioners.

ALDERMAN SUTHERLAND AT the Council meeting on Monday night stated that he could not support the idea of granting a dance hall licence to the Aquatic Club because of the conduct of juveniles at the Aquatic dances. When asked to amplify his statement, Alderman Sutherland refrained from doing so. . . . It is unfortunate that Mr. Sutherland chose to make the insinuations and refused to substantiate his charges. If he has definite information as to the conduct of juveniles at these dances detrimental to public welfare, he should make the information public so that the parents of juveniles could take the necessary action and the police and civic officials might clean up the situation, even closing the place if this action were deemed necessary. . . . But if Alderman Sutherland has no information to substantiate his charges, he was doing a disservice to this community by making the insinuations. However if Mr. Sutherland voiced his charges on other than personal knowledge, I would suggest he carry on a little personal investigation as rumors and gossips are poor foundations upon which to base charges against one of the most valuable institutions in this city. . . .

DURING THE PAST THREE years, I have attended many of the Aquatic dances—the majority of them, in fact. Being naturally interested in people and having a newspaper man's curiosity, I do not think that I go around with my eyes tightly shut. And in reply to Alderman Sutherland's insinuations, I can state without any hesitation that he will travel many hundreds—yes, thousands—of miles across this continent or any other continent before he will find any other better conducted dances than those at this same Aquatic Club. And I have attended a few dances in other sections of this country. The crowd at the Aquatic has a good time, yes. But there is as much restraint there as can be found at any soup-and-fish affair staged by the Four Hundred, of Victoria, or any other stiff-shirt community in this country. The absence of "scenes" is astonishing. They are so rare in fact that when they do occur, they are considered something of a floor-show, an added bit of entertainment. Last Saturday night, for instance. . . . Perhaps Alderman Sutherland has more information about the conduct of juveniles at the dances than have I. Certainly I have watched the crowd on the floor and between dances, but I have not appointed myself a private detective. I do not say that some juveniles—and some not-so-juvenile—always conduct themselves from nine till one as ladies and gentlemen should. But I would point out that there are always one or two fools in any group of ten people of no matter what age, and one can hardly blame the Aquatic dances for their conduct. If these juveniles—and oldsters—choose to conduct themselves in this manner, they will find plenty of opportunity for doing so—their parents' living room, a parked car or a thousand and one other places—and the fact that they choose to play the fool on the evening that there happens to be an Aquatic dance is purely incidental. . . . Some of them may play the fool, but I have but very rarely seen any indication of it at the Aquatic. And that, as I have said before, has been a subject of amazement to me. It has been a tradition of the organization that the slightest indication of anything beyond the borders of good taste, the directors step in and take a hand. And those times when this has been necessary it has been done most effectively. My personal opinion is that if a juvenile cannot go to the Aquatic and behave himself or herself, he or she should be tied to a parent's apron-strings, or locked in a padded cell. And even then, I bet, he will find a way to make a fool of himself. . . . Perhaps Alderman Sutherland has some concrete evidence of juveniles making fools of themselves during the hours there happens to be an Aquatic dance. If so I would suggest that he put the blame where it rightly belongs—on the individual concerned. Does he suggest that the park should be closed because a car or two parks there? Does he suggest the highways should be closed because there is petting there? Lord, help us!

PERHAPS WHAT WAS THE outstanding "scene" at an Aquatic dance in three years occurred on Saturday evening. And by no stretch of the imagination could the organization be censured. It so happened that three of the boys from the basic training camp in Vernon had been celebrating their week-end leave too well. They decided to take a swim in their uniforms and with great gusto they splashed around in the water in front of the club. At least they did so until the directors rallied around and they were shepherded away. They did not succeed in reaching the dance-floor. It wasn't a pleasant exhibition but it did not last long and the Aquatic could hardly be blamed. . . . In passing it might be pointed out that this very thing was the reason that the Empire Day dance sponsored by the Gyros was not thrown open to privates in uniform. Not upholding the idea or presenting a brief for it, it would seem fair to indicate at this time that the Gyros were rather on the spot about that ruling and could take no other course. A rather sticky situation had occurred at a dance in Vernon and there was a desire to avoid a similar occurrence here. Actually the Gyros hands were tied. . . .

THE EFFORTS OF MUSSOLINI to lead his unwilling subjects to something that will satisfy his lust for glory have been revived with copious infusions of vitamin B, which in the lexicon of the Italian balcony posters stands for Benito. The intrepid hero of scores of rearward actions has ordered his minister of farming to repel an attack from the skies. Not of course that Hitler is going to practice parachute plunges on the Italian peasants. He doesn't need to do that; they are under his heel now. The enemy is on the wing but not the parachute kind of wing. It is none other than the English sparrow. All these very vicious enemies must be destroyed. It is not known whether Muss will lead the campaign in person, calling in the photographers to witness his slaying of the first ferocious sparrow. But the thought must have been discussed with his ministers. Perhaps it was given up when they could not induce a sparrow to pose with Benito for the inauguration of the purge. Broadcasting this order over Italy will inspire in the oppressed—and depressed—people a certain feeling of relief that Benito has found a mission equal to his genius. It may keep his mind off driving the youth of Italy into ignoble graves. The only law is that the enemy may retreat. The sparrows may pack up and go back to England, where men are holding their fire for a MAN'S DAY. . . .

THE MEN WHO made the local Victory Loan Torch will derive some satisfaction from the general praise which has been accorded it. They may take satisfaction from a job well done. Men of the Rocky Mountain Rangers and the Royal Canadian Navy bands, as well as Major Harold Brown, all agreed the local torch was the finest facsimile of the master torch that they had seen. Those in most other towns could not compare with the workmanship of the local torch. . . .

Interior Sportsmen Would Raise Standards of Fishing Resorts

Would Grant Game Commission Powers—G. Toombs, of Penticton, New President—Kelowna Resolutions Passed

That the Legislature should grant the B. C. Game Commission wide powers to raise the standards of fishing and hunting resorts and to limit the numbers of any such resorts in particular areas, was the opinion expressed by sportsmen of the Interior at annual convention at Salmon Arm on Thursday, June 5.

Over fifty delegates representing some twelve fish and game associations gathered at the main line city for an all-day session and discussion of sportsmen's problems. Some twenty-five resolutions were presented to the convention for consideration, and discussion generally was of a contenting nature.

The resolution asking that regulation of lodges be written into law, was framed by the Vernon Fish and Game Protective Association, and was presented by President J. G. West, and seconded by A. D. Marshall, of Kelowna.

Game Commissioner J. G. Cunningham said that similar legislation was defeated at the last session of the House. He asked that copies of the resolution be forwarded to every M.L.A. in the province. The resolution, worded as follows, occasioned no discussion:

"There should be some regulation of fishing and hunting resorts. Last year a great deal of unfavorable publicity was given this meeting by a disgruntled sportsman. Therefore be it resolved that this province be asked to enact regulations governing the issuance of permits to operate and supervise established camps, to ensure that there be proper sanitary conveniences, suitable rates of accommodation for cabins, boats and services of guides, and generally to ensure that resort owners be not subjected to blighting competition and that at the same time the public be well served."

Under chairmanship of the Interior Association President, A. E. Sage, of Armstrong, gathering in the morning, addresses of welcome were given by Mayor Cyril Thomson, Reeve Michael Damgaard, of the district municipality, and by Ken Hunter, President of the Salmon Arm Fish and Game Protective Association, who also presided at the sportsmen's banquet in the evening.

A welcome visitor during the morning session was Attorney-General Gordon S. Wisner, himself a well-known sportsman who annually enjoys interior shooting and fishing. In the course of a short address, Mr. Wisner stated publicly his disagreement with the view that activities of the Game Commission and other regulatory bodies should be discontinued for duration of the war. B.C.'s forests and streams, he declared, are a great tourist asset, a magnet that brings to this country needed American exchange. If the Game Commission and game wardens were disbanded, "We would never get back to where we were."

The Attorney-General declared that "It is absolutely essential to continue the work of the Commission and of the wardens. We who are sportsmen know this."

Also a visitor to the convention was Inspector S. F. M. Moodie, Chief Air Raid Warden for the province, who was accompanied by Mr. Wisner on his interior trip. Prior to the Attorney-General's departure, a minute's silence was observed in honor of the late E. C. Manning, Chief Forester for B.C., who was killed last winter in an airplane crash.

Business sessions commenced in earnest following the noon adjournment.

Disease in Deer
The first speaker was Dr. F. A. Humphries, of the Laboratory of Hygiene, Kamloops, whose remarks helped to solve a puzzling problem concerning disease in deer. Lungs and other parts of deer shot in the Kamloops area last fall were found to be diseased. Examination revealed that these animals were suffering from pseudo-tuberculosis, a disease prevalent in sheep. Dr. Humphries explained that this disease is not real tuberculosis.

Juniors Active
Taking a prominent part in the proceedings were members of the Kamloops Junior Fish and Game Club, under George Sandford. These youngsters addressed delegates at the business meeting and at the banquet and were given a hearty welcome. Some of their resolutions which will be presented to the junior convention in July were discussed.

Pheasants
The open season on pheasants in the Kamloops and Salmon Arm areas will be the same next fall if the convention recommendation is adopted. A further clause in the resolution asking that the open season dates at the Coast be made similar to those in Kamloops-Salmon Arm was defeated. In opposing this measure, Game Commissioner Cunningham declared that "Vancouver tourists should be as welcome in the Interior as those from the U.S. Why not share with our own fellow sportsmen in B.C.?"

The often-debated question of tagging pheasants was repeated in a slightly different form when consideration was given to a Kamloops proposal to have the Commission offer a $50 prize to junior clubs for the best tag. There is a great infringement on bag limits, William Harknett, Kamloops, declared, adding that he had been informed that box car seals could be secured at a cost of $3 per 1,000.

"We absolutely cannot offer any prize until the predatory wolves overseas are killed," said Mr. Cunningham. Asked if the Commission would enforce use of a tag, he said it had not been informed that clubs favored such a method. There was no final decision on this question.

Mountain Sheep
Protection and propagation of mountain sheep in the Shores Creek area, at Vaseux Lake and at Ashcroft, left in the Commission's charge following a spirited debate.

HOME MAKING COURSE HELD AT WESTBANK

University Extension Service
Lecturers Appear for Two Days Under Institute Auspices

Considerable interest was roused by the short course in home-making sponsored by Westbank Women's Institute last week, and held by Miss Stewart and Miss Kennedy, of the University Extension Service. Various handicrafts were demonstrated by Miss Stewart, these including glove-making, weaving in several of its branches, each of which appeared to fascinate the class in turn. But making the utilization of otherwise waste material for the making of mitts, aprons, slippers and so on, as well as the making of curtains of burlap, seed-sacking and such material, were shown to the class, which included Institute and non-Institute members. A display of the finished products was on view and drew many admiring comments.

Miss Kennedy's talks on nutrition, and on diseases caused by the lack of any of the vitamins; as well as her demonstrations on the preparation of various dishes, such as desserts, sandwiches, were instructive as well as entertaining. There was no registration fee, and anyone was free to attend. It was felt by many that Westbank should have a longer course in the not too distant future, as two days' sessions did not allow of sufficient time to master any one handicraft. During their stay in Westbank, Miss Stewart and Miss Kennedy were entertained by members of the class.

Several cars carried Westbankers to Peachland on Thursday night, June 12, where they had the privilege of hearing Edna Jacques, poetess and entertainer, who addressed a gathering in the Municipal Hall, keeping her audience of men and women convulsed with laughter when they were not on the verge of tears. Miss Jacques' inimitable humor and the beauty of her poems gathered in the Municipal Hall, the occasion one never to be forgotten.

Severe Hailstorm
A short but severe hailstorm struck part of the district of Westbank on Thursday afternoon of last week, when the storm broke over the hills to the south of the village, and swept along the benches to the west, where there are several large plantings of peaches, as well as other fruit trees. One grower said that the hailstones, which were unusually large, could be scooped up in shovelfuls. Considerable damage has been done to the tree-fruit crop as a result of this storm. The hailstorm affected the entire district, however, and the majority of the orchards escaped with a heavy rainfall.

Miss Florrie Hannam, who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. C. Young, at Victoria during the past six months or so, returned recently to her home in Westbank.

on a Kelowna resolution which subsequently was amended. An open season on these sheep would result in slaughter, Major Allan Brooks declared, adding that protection must be given the lambs from golden eagles.

Kelowna, so Bert Chichester said, has given up the idea of an open season on the Shores Creek band but has not abandoned the idea that killing off some of the old rams would be beneficial.

Fish Catch Limit
A move in the direction of limiting the daily bag limit on fish was made when a Kelowna resolution was carried. This asked that mouth of the C.P.R. main line no person shall have in his possession more than two days' legal catch of fish at any one time.

Control of Predators
It would be a crime if the splendid control work on predators were relaxed, Major Brooks declared. Fifteen years' work is represented in the present stage of control. Wardens are not denied supplies of ammunition for this purpose, Mr. Cunningham stated, but ammunition for associations is "absolutely stopped," owing to limited funds. Ducks Unlimited, the prairie conservation organization, had promised a supply to the Commission but "you will not get it from this year."

Okanagan Lake Open All Year
That he knew of no reason why Okanagan Lake should not be opened for fishing all year was Mr. Cunningham's statement during discussion of that Okanagan and Skaha Lakes be opened for twelve months in the year. The original action in closing Okanagan Lake was prompted by Vernon and Kelowna, he said, and was an attempt to discourage the sale of sporting fish. This sale has subsequently been prohibited.

Other Resolutions
Other resolutions adopted by the convention were:

Kelowna—Fish Cultural Operations: Resolved (without in any way criticizing the fishery work of the Game Department) that there is great opportunity for scientific research in the management of fish, and that the Game Department should acquire a great deal of scientific data.

Kelowna—Control of Predators: The convention registers approval of the good work done by various wardens in control of predators, such control necessitating the use of ammunition. Be it therefore re-

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Glenwood Ave., Woodlawn,
June 17, 1941.
Editor, Kelowna Courier.

Will you please allow me space in your valuable newspaper, I am answering brutal and insulting remarks made at Ottawa by so-called members of Parliament, who represent themselves as good Christians and doing all they can to get money out of the people to help win the war.

But old people are considered of no use on this earth and should be dead instead of bothering about old age pensions, according to Mr. Hickey's ideas and other members, all mentioning nasty things to insult old age people. They are living on a starving pension of $20 per month, with foodstuffs up in price, etc., making things harder than before the war began.

Yet Mr. Hickey says you can do better on one dollar now than they did in 1927. This is very mean talk, all this argument over a few more dollars raised to help the old age pensioners.

However, I think Mr. Hickey of Ottawa, must be a hard-hearted sort of man, talking about old people should be dead at 70 years old. This is a nice Christian way of doing things after the old people have sons and daughters in England fighting to help keep these kind of men in a rusty position. These men can get all they want and enjoy themselves just as if there was no war at all. They are all for themselves. I think some of these men would suit Adolf Hitler and the Gestapo or the concentration camp, because they are men who have no feeling for humanity. I have been deceived by the Mackenzie King Government, who promised to attend to my appeal a year ago about the old age pension.

Yours faithfully,
A. E. HOMEWOOD.

BOY SCOUT COLUMN

1st Kelowna Troop
Troop First Self Last

Orders for week commencing Friday, June 20, 1941.

Duties: Orderly Patrol for week, Owls; next for duty, Eagles. Rallies: There will be no rallies of the Troop, but there will be a Court of Honor at the Scout Hall for Patrol Leaders and Scouts on Friday, the 20th instant, at 7:15 p.m. This Court of Honor will be followed at a later date by separate meetings of each Patrol with the Scouters, of which the patrol leaders will be separately notified.

There are still a number of returns to come in from the sale of tickets for our recent entertainment, and we would like to have them immediately, so that we can find out what we made and get off our contribution to the Scouts in Britain "Chin-up Fund."

The Scouts and Cubs in Britain, with their families, are undergoing a terrible time there, and words cannot describe the pride we feel in the magnificent manner in which they are living up to the finest traditions of not only our race but of humanity.

We would like to quote here what has been described in our "Scout Leader" as "A Brave Letter from a Brave London Scout's Mother." The reference goes on to say that "Dennis Melville, a sixteen-year-old London Scout, volunteered to help a fire party when bombs fell on his place of work. He was fatally injured. His death revealed a story of continued service over many months, as told in a very brave letter from his mother to the County Commissioner." and this is the letter:

"Just to thank you for your very kind letter sent to us on the death of our dear son.

"His, indeed, was a lovely life. His activities during this war have been outstanding. He was a scout, did first aid, and his knowledge of civil defence and all A.R.P. activities has put many a man to shame. If bombs were dropped in our vicinity, he was always one of the first on the scene with his first aid bag (always well equipped out of his pocket money).

"We have recently had our home destroyed by a land mine. His work that night was wonderful for one so young; our house had fallen in, but he just picked himself up out of the rubble, made his way to the Anderson shelter for his first aid kit, and was working several hours among sights I would have shielded him from seeing.

"I shall never forget that night. He came in with his clothes cut to ribbons by glass, his face all scratched, but with such a lovely smile—something attempted, something done. He went to sleep for an hour or two in the shelter, then was up again at six o'clock helping me to clear a road through the rubble and salvage little valuables. This was his whole life, helpful, cheerful and outstanding in everything he did.

"Best of all, he was a good son, a dear boy to us, a real companion to his dad and to me, everything that was lovable. I have still three younger children, one Scout, one Guide and a Brownie, so I hope still to see him grow up somewhere near Dennis' standard. I shall feel well repaid for my care of him."

COMPLETE CHAIN OF YOUTH HOSTELS

Hikers or Cyclists May Find Stopping Places in Valley

It is now possible to travel by bicycle or hike from Penticton to Kamloops and use the youth hostels for resting places. W. Wilson, Pro-Rec Supervisor, announced on Wednesday. These hostels are located in the following communities and are available for members of the Canadian Youth Hostel Association. West Summerland, Mrs. Rau, Main Street; Peachland, Mrs. Wright, Edgewater Inn; Kelowna, Mrs. Robinson, Poplar Point; Oya-ma, Mrs. Thompson; Vernon, Major and Mrs. Curwen, Orchardleigh Lodge; Armstrong, Mrs. Townsend; Salmon Arm, Mrs. H. Barr.

In Chase and in Penticton, the hostellers will have to find their own accommodation, until hostels can be located. There are three youth hostel chains in B. C., Vancouver Island, Fraser Valley and Okanagan Valley.

BUSINESS TO CARRY ON
On Monday evening, the Kelowna City Council was informed that the real estate and insurance business of the late G. A. Fisher will be carried on under the guidance of the Okanagan Investments Co., Ltd. This is one of the oldest Kelowna businesses of its type.

BRITISH LETTERS

Miss Betty A. Kiff writes from England that The Courier is handed to her regularly by Lance-Corporal W. T. Roberts, of the Canadian Provost Corps, who was a resident of Peachland. Miss Kiff has been extremely active in services connected with war work and writes an educational article on "Test Centre Work with Refugees" for the consumption of Courier readers.

"Our canteen has been forced to close temporarily as the Government commandeered the building for the Home Guard," she writes in her letter. "The Courier." "We are now very busy on all kinds of schemes to raise money for a new wooden building and hope to open the canteen again in July."

"I want to have a Canadian corner there, where the boys can count and find their own home newspapers, magazines and books. The Kelowna Courier will be there and any other B. C. newspapers I can collect."

"If you would care to use the enclosed write-up for your newspaper, I should be very glad. We are just behind the front line and see much of the misery of war while still enjoying comparative safety."

"The article has been submitted to the Ministry of Information and several small deletions were made."

The article follows:
As a somewhat "late" reader of The Kelowna Courier—it is now May 12th and I've just read the edition of March 27th—I find much evidence of the sincere and practical interest being shown in your district in our refugees. Would you be interested to hear something about work in these refugee rest-centres?

I am a London teacher and was recently on exchange in British Columbia. With my school, I was evacuated here two days before the outbreak of war as we are less than twenty miles from the south coast, we have now become rest-centre workers as well as evacuee teachers.

Many months before the first severe night blitz, we had received instructions about schools and staff being taken over for any sudden emergency. Then suddenly one icy old January night, the school was closed and we had to find shelter. We had suffered a heavy night bombardment, and we hastily prepared to deal with the first batch of refugees.

Black-out had to be absolutely perfect, and in seventy-year-old buildings, with windows high up in the walls, this was not easy. Arrangements were completed to use one room as a sick bay, facilities were improvised for dealing with small babies, nursing and expectant mothers, and possibly "blitz" ant mothers, and possibly "blitz" orphans. One section we had not bargained for was refugee dogs. But more of them later.

Then the pathetic little groups began to arrive, travelling in buses, army lorries or any other available conveyance. They queued up at the office to register, were given meal tickets, and then directed to one of the various canteens in the town (church halls, schoolrooms, etc.) for a hot meal.

We then sorted them out into parties of twenty to thirty to find their sleeping accommodation in the classrooms. With the help of a younger teacher, I took charge of three rooms holding eighty to ninety people. Your hearts would have been touched to see them—mothers with five, six and seven children and sometimes an old grandmother who was an added responsibility. There was an old seafaring man of eighty-five with his dog and his girl friend, who was no more than fifty! Another old couple had with them a mentally defective daughter, the young one of their family of twenty children. Some of them had suitcases or paper parcels of clothing and a few cherished possessions, while some had lost everything. They had taken their usual over-night bundles to the shelters, but at least one large shelter had received a direct hit.

But the dogs! There were dozens of them of every conceivable size and color, but few of any known breed. It was decided that they must be put in a separate building at night, and then the arguments began. The old seaman buttoned his little mongrel firmly inside his coat, and said he'd sleep outside if the dog did. It had always slept with him and always would. Ultimately, we got them all to their sleeping quarters except that particular one, and they made the night hideous with their concerted howling. We appointed a dog warden, and she managed to get everything organized to the satisfaction of the owners after the first night. Of course, the people had previously been advised to have their animals destroyed, lest they should become refugees. Some had taken them to the Dog and Cat Home at the last moment, only to find the building had been blitzed.

The saddest experience of all was helping the party of men (we gave them hot tea, etc., as the canteens did not open until 8 a.m.) who set out very early each morning to line up at the mortuaries in the blitzed area, to identify their dead.

This strange community life went on for two weeks in the rest-centre. They settled into friendly groups, and most of the men went back to work each day to their work. Many of the boys and girls of 'teen age were without work because their offices had been destroyed. The families with most initiative found themselves accommodation in the neighborhood, or near their original homes. They often crowded in with relatives who still had roots in their homes. They then set about getting their furniture moved out from the ruins and put elsewhere. Many of them were found billeted in the rural area near this little town. With the exception of perhaps two families, they were NOT afraid to return to the blitzed area. They may have been thrifless, they may have been foolish about having their children evacuated, but they certainly were NOT scared.

Their cheerfulness, resilience and ability to joke about their misfortunes after the first few hours will contribute, as surely as any tangible weapon of war, to our ultimate victory.—B. A. K.

1ST RUTLAND TROOP

"Do a Good Turn Daily"

Orders for the week ending June 21st:
The Troop will parade, in uniform, at the school field on Friday, at 7:30 p.m. sharp.
Duty Patrol: Kangaroos (P.L. J. Ansell).

Softball: A softball game will be played on the school field, commencing at 6:45 p.m., for those Scouts coming early to the meeting. It is hoped that we may be able to pick a team to challenge Kelowna and Okanagan Mission Scouts.

There was an attendance of thirty Scouts at the meeting on the school field on Friday last. After a strenuous softball game that started with only six players on a side but ended with about fifteen on each team, the roll was marked, and then a pup-tent pitching contest followed. With a dearth of ropes and tent poles, some good work was performed, nevertheless, the Eagles having a slight edge, allowing for netness as well as speed. This week the contest will be repeated, and it is hoped that all patrols will equip themselves with sufficient ropes and other aids to tent pitching. Striking the tents was accomplished with lightning rapidity, indicating more enthusiasm for destruction than construction! Tickets for the coming Scout Dance were distributed to the Scouts present, for sale to the public. The meeting then dismissed with the repeating of the Scout Promise.

The program for this week's meeting will be similar to last week, with the addition of Patrol Corners in the school basement. For this the duty patrol will be requested to arrange seating accommodation in the basement and to look after lighting arrangements.

Patrol Competition
The Kangaroos took a long, long hop in the competition this week, putting themselves into third place, after trailing for months. The Foxes regained first place, temporarily lost to the Eagles last week, the P.L. Jim Kitaura, contributing with two important certificates, one for the "Ambulance" badge, and the other for the First Class "Accident" test. The standing of the patrols is now as follows:

Patrol	Points
Foxes	3,753
Eagles	2,891
Kangaroos	2,053
Beavers	2,028
Seals	1,645

A. W. GRAY, Scoutmaster.

VALLEY TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Minimum Price for Butter Thin Edge of Control Wedge

Fixing a minimum price for butter is viewed at Ottawa as the thin edge of a more far-reaching price control system by the Government. This control is expected to spread to other primary products and eventually to manufactured goods.

The policy of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has been to interfere as little as possible by price fixing. In one of two instances it has been deemed necessary to set maximum prices, but manufactured goods have been generally untouched to date.

Excellent co-operation has been received by the Board from manufacturers in all parts of the country. This is evident in the relatively slow and moderate rise of the cost of living since the war started. Prices of finished goods have risen less in most cases than the costs of labor and raw materials.

The problem of keeping prices under control has been comparatively easy up to this time. Now the country is entering a period where the regulation of prices becomes more complicated.

The problem facing the Board is twofold. On the one hand there is the demand for minimum prices by those producers who have experienced a severe contraction in markets. On the other is the "squeeze" on the group, mainly manufacturers, producing goods in which the costs of imported materials and of labor are steadily rising.

In the last war there was an abnormal demand for all kinds of goods. Maximum prices were set in some lines to keep them from getting wholly out of hand.

In this war, instead of a shortage, there is a surplus of basic food-stuffs.

The low price of farm products has brought considerable pressure on the Government to establish a minimum price. Even before the war, a minimum price was fixed for wheat. Now it has been done for butter. As the war progresses, similar action is expected for other farm products.

Change in Policy

The assistance given to the farm producer denotes a vitally important change in government policy which will not go unnoticed by producers of manufactured articles. Not all industry is engaged in war work.

These non-war industries are an important part of the Canadian economy. Unlike the war industries, they are meeting it increasingly difficult to meet the rising cost of materials and labor, more particularly the latter. They have had no expansion in operations permitting them to reduce overhead to absorb the additional costs. The law of supply and demand works against this group, and it is from them that a demand for possible price cutting in order to "fill up the mill."

An outstanding example is newsprint. There has been no change in the price of newsprint paper since the beginning of 1938. In the past, competition amongst operators has kept the price low. The newsprint industry has achieved a comparatively high degree of stability in recent years. But the weakness in the present structure is the constant threat of possible price cutting in order to "fill up the mill."

Keep Prices Down

In other industries the problem is one of keeping prices down. The war industries, for instance, have been most successful in keeping prices at or near pre-war levels for that portion of their output going into civilian uses.

The increase in buying power since the start of the war has come largely from one group—the worker. Taxation has had little effect in limiting his purchasing and civilian consumption continues at an abnormally high rate.

Up to now the Government has moved slowly in restricting consumption, but further moves are inevitable. With the capacity to produce for civilian consumption lessening all the time and the demand growing rather than diminishing, price rises become irresistible.

Forced Savings?

Unless there is adoption of some policy like forced savings (which does not seem likely for the immediate future), the Government may have to adopt some general form of rationing. Presently, the policy made with automobiles, with Ottawa applying the brakes on new car production. Curb has also been applied against new building. A general rationing policy would automatically achieve what is not now being done on a voluntary basis—limiting of civilian consumption to make available a greater volume of goods for war purposes.

Convention Report

Mrs. Olson gave her report on the convention held at Keremeos, and stated that the keynote of the discussions was war work. Quilts, food conservation, ambulances, Red Cross work are to be some of the main work of the Institutes throughout the country. She also reported on the display of handicrafts carried out by different centres. In her report, Mrs. Olson gave the members different ideas and projects which had been carried out in other places and passed the information in the hope it would prove helpful. As an example, it was stated that pieces of leather should be saved to be given to the I.O.D.E. for use in making garments for men on mine-sweepers. It was also felt that the lead given by other centres in having deer skins tanned should be followed and much useful and valuable leather could be made and used. It had been stated at the conference that every Institute should acquire a copy of the book entitled "God's Good Time," by Charlotte Whitton, and that every member should read it. All members were asked to salvage different materials as a war effort, and the necessity was stressed of supporting the Government in purchasing Victory bonds and war savings certificates.

The hooked rug which was donated by Mrs. Mayday was raffled and the sum of $7.00 was realized. The draw was conducted with Larry Hewlett drawing the ticket, the prize going to Mrs. Ribelin, of Kelowna.

Tes was served by Mrs. H. Hewlett and Mrs. M. Barwick.

Henry Wood, of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Wood, formerly of East Kelowna, left last week to join the R.C.A.F. as an observer.

George Olson, now taking additional training in Vancouver under the Basic Tools Training scheme, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Olson, of East Kelowna, during the past week.

G. W. Strang, of the Veterans Guard of Canada, stationed at Esquimalt, returned to the Coast recently after spending leave here.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Gregory and children, of Roseland, were visitors to East Kelowna during the past week, returning to Roseland on June 14.

The East Kelowna Red Cross is now meeting on Monday and Thursday afternoons. On Monday, Mrs. C. Murrell and Mrs. Davidson were hostesses, while on Thursday afternoon hostesses were Mrs. G. D. Fitz-Gerald and Mrs. J. Ferguson.

Grade Four of the Junior room of the East Kelowna School held its graduation party on the afternoon and early evening of June 11. A hike was made as far as the swinging bridge and games were played, followed by refreshments.

Mrs. G. W. Strang, who has been a patient in the Kelowna General Hospital, has now been able to leave and is at present staying with friends in town.

Larry Neld, who had the misfortune to have his leg severely injured in a riding accident, returned to his home in East Kelowna on Thursday, June 12.

Rains Raise Dam

The recent heavy rains in the district have been instrumental in raising the height of the South East Kelowna Irrigation District dam about one foot and providing about 500 extra acre-feet of water. This will help to relieve the water shortage, but already the volume being used is heavy, due to the sudden spell of hot weather.

Considerable rain damage has been done in many places in the district to the cherry crop, on which many growers had been depending when the failure occurred in the apple crop. However, although the damage is quite heavy, there will be a large volume of cherries in the district.

Miss Eloise Lamb, of Chicago, Ill., was a week-end visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Barwick. Miss Lamb had been returning to her home in Chicago following a trip to the western states and Canada.

Miss Joan Matthews, of Kelowna, has been practicing teaching in the East Kelowna School for the past three weeks, and she finished her teaching last week.

School Inspector A. S. Matheson paid his final visit of the present school year to the East Kelowna School on Tuesday, June 10.

Plans have been made by the East Kelowna Community Hall Board to hold a dance in the Hall on the evening of June 20, with Roy Endersby's Orchestra providing the music. This will likely be the last of a series until fall, so it is hoped that a large crowd will turn out.

GIRL GUIDE NOTES

1st Kelowna Girl Guide Company
Rallies: Friday, June 20th, 7 p.m. Orderly Patrol: Canaries.
Monday, June 23rd, 7 p.m. Orderly Patrol: Nightingales.

Church parade was quite well attended by the Guides on Sunday but we would have liked more Brownies with us. Browning Doreen Albrecht has received the 2nd Class Badge. We are sorry to lose Daphne Bell and Patsy Clippindale. Daphne is leaving shortly to take a position at Banff and Patsy is returning to Vancouver after a year's visit in the Valley. Our sincere good wishes for the future go with them.

Recruits Jean Hemelspeck, Victoria Sperle and Rosemarie Heller were welcomed to the Company at the last Rally.

The program for the 27th showed considerable improvement on Monday evening, but still needs more rehearsing, so everyone must be present at the next rallies. All needlework articles for the Bazaar the Junior Red Cross, $3.00 to the Prevention of Kelowna and 50 cents to the Churchill Fund. The penny card is being filled up and will be sent away at the end of the term.

It was decided to hold the school picnic on June 25 at the Rotary Park on the west side of the lake. Transportation to town will be provided by the parents.

The sale of war savings stamps to date has risen to the total of $59.25.

The East Kelowna School won from the Mission Creek School in a softball game played at East Kelowna on June 15, the local team coming out on the top end of a 16-14 score. The game was closely contested, with East Kelowna putting over two extra runs in the final frame.

Mission Creek players included: Albert Bianco, Tomo Naka, Adolph Morhart, Arnold Bulman, Eric Bianco, Glennys Gillard, Clarence Turner, Fred Turner, Jara Oisha and Eiji Oisha.

East Kelowna players included: Tommy Neld, Bert and Raymond Van Dyke, Peter Dyson, Jack and Mary Bailey, Ronald Haskins, Dorothy Perry and Malcolm Tasker. A return game was set for Wednesday, June 18, at Mission Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Barwick, of Merritt, arrived in East Kelowna on Sunday, June 15, to spend a few days as guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Barwick.

GENERAL PUBLIC MUST CARRY MOST VICTORY LOAN

Big Subscriptions Help but it is the Small Ones Which Count Most Says Austin
TaylorLarge, and sometimes spectacular, subscriptions to the Victory Loan in British Columbia are merely a guide-post, according to Austin C.
Taylor, Chairman of the B.C.-Yukon Organization.While specific individuals and institutions are utilizing both cash and credit to assist Canada and the Empire in this hour of crisis, "we cannot depend on these alone to produce our quota or supply the need," said Mr. Taylor.The duty falls in the main on the public at large, he said, and "the loan cannot be a success without the loyal support of all in every walk of life."

There are thousands who are hesitating for various reasons, said

Mr. Taylor. They have found no previous necessity, perhaps, to stretch their budgets beyond the ordinary necessities of life although, in a great many cases, it can be done. There are those, also, to whom the purchase of a bond is such a novelty that there is a natural hesitancy. "It is these people
we need to ensure success," Mr.
Taylor said. "The big subscribers have displayed a commendable leadership, pooling their resources and pledging their credit. Others in the smaller financial brackets could follow suit with beneficial results to themselves as well as to their country."Asked if he was satisfied with results so far, Mr. Taylor replied that these results are encouraging but "we have the hardest part of the row to hoe." He appealed, also, to those who have already subscribed but who could increase their subscriptions. "I will ask them to reflect on the national urgency, to let their conscience be their guide," said Mr. Taylor. "After due reflection, many of them will consider it advisable to increase the amounts of their purchases and should immediately contact the nearest Victory Loan headquarters for that purpose.""It cannot be too strongly stressed," said Mr. Taylor, "that it is the people at large who must put the

BOOK REVIEW

(All books mentioned in this review are on the shelves of the Kelowna branch of the Okanagan Union Library.)One hears a lot these days about riding and riding schools in and near Kelowna. It might interest these horse lovers to know that there are some books in the library that might be of use to them.Take for instance "The Horse and His Schooling" by Lt.-Col. McTaggart, late of the 5th R.I. Lancers. It suggests that you learn first to know your horse's nature, then how to make him obedient to your wishes.
It gives you stable hints and tells you what to do with a horse that has a mouth like iron. There are rules for schooling and exercising your horse and a lot of information on jumping. Emphasis is laid upon the proper treatment of your horse, and upon obtaining one's mastery by gentle yet quiet determination. It should prove a useful book for all riders."In My Opinion" is a book of dissertations on horses and horsemanship, edited by Major W. E. Lyon. Under the headings of "The Horse,"
"The Race Horse," "The Hunter,"
"The Hack" and "The Pony" are collected articles by various people whose opinions count for something in the equestrian world."Riding Along: A Book For Horse Lovers of All Ages," by A. P. Fachiri, is addressed primarily to the young riders and is not of any great practical value; but it provides an interesting reading and is calculated to arouse an interest and enthusiasm in the reader for mounted sports.
It has chapters on horsemanship and horseback riding in Europe and America."The Young Rider," by Golden Gordon is also, as its title suggests, for the youngsters, though Part Two of the book is written especially for their elders. In it the author has tried to show that there is a joy in giving a child the joy of keeping a pony without the expense of opening a stable. Grown-up beginners, too, may find here how they may master the elements of horsemanship and enjoy riding the farmer's angle that are not listed here, but written for people who "know," but
for those who may have missed the chance of accumulating knowledge of the horse.Then there are books like the popular "Black Beauty" that are about horses. "Golden Hoofs," by W. C. Duncan, tells the story of the most incredible career of Goldsmith Maid. This book is one of the best descriptions of a horse race that has ever been written.One of the latest books to arrive for the children is called "Midnight." It is the story of a colt who was born wild—as truly wild as the bobcats, cougars, hawks and owls that were a part of his world.
In addition to these books for the horse lover are a number of books about horses from the farmer's angle that are not listed here, but may be of interest to those who own horses for work on the ranch.On Thursday, June 12, two charges were laid in Kelowna Police Court before Magistrate T. E. Mc-Williams. Alan Ross Armstrong pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge following an accident at the Kumby Court corner of the Vernon road. He was fined $25 and John Gillis was charged with creating a disturbance and was assessed $5 and costs.Loan across. The government is asking no one to donate, but the government is asking everyone to exert every conceivable effort to purchase these interest-bearing bonds for the national need and the national good. This is an emergency, and even if a subscription necessitates a sacrifice, it is a small sacrifice compared to the price that is being paid by those who are actually on the front line of the war."

BYLAW CHANGING TYPES OF PRIVIES MAY BE HEARD

Ald. W. B. Hughes-Games
Again Stresses Superiority from Hygienic Angle of Pit-Type PrivyAld. W. B. Hughes-Games, Chairman of the Health Department, served notice on his fellow aldermen on Monday evening that he would soon submit an amendment to the Health Bylaw, so that only the pit variety of privy will be permissible anywhere within the city limits.The Council heard Ald. Hughes-Games quote from the latest authorities on hygiene regarding the use of the pit variety of privy, which is alleged to be a much more sanitary type than any other.
Pit privies, he stated, are not sanitary, and he ordered that all privies be altered or reconstructed to conform to the pit variety by December 31. Peticion has more than 500 privies to locations with, while Kelowna has nearly three hundred.It is Ald. Hughes-Games' intention to submit a bylaw which would allow owners of privies six months in which to conform with the new regulations. This pit variety is more sanitary, is not expensive to construct and is so designed that it provides a minimum opportunity for flies to gain access.The other members of the Council listened attentively to the information furnished but did not indicate what the reaction would be to such a bylaw.On a previous occasion, both Ald. Hughes-Games and Medical Health Officer Dr. J. M. Hershey talked to the Council on this same subject.Five residents of the Benvoulin district were fined this week on charges in connection with harboring unlicensed dogs, under the Sheep Protection Act. They were fined any great expense. This book is not written for people who "know," but
for those who may have missed the chance of accumulating knowledge
of the horse.Then there are books like the

Empire will not voluntarily raise the enormous sums needed for modern mechanical equipment, nor the trained men to handle them. "Divide and conquer" and "Lull the poor fools into a sense of security" are Hitler's strongest weapons. We must not let him fool us."In the last war," Capt. Bull said,
"it took the combined armies, navies and air forces of the British Empire, France, the United States, Italy, Japan and a host of smaller nations to defeat Germany. Today, the British Commonwealth of Nations stands alone. If Britain falls, the fate of Canada and North American continent will just be a matter of time. It would be utterly impossible for the United States and Canada to stand up to a victorious and dictator-mad world, and as sure as night follows day we would have death and destruction in Canada, in British Columbia and in this Valley. And life would be a nightmare and a thing of dread and horror.""It is imperative that we throw every dollar into the fight before it is too late."
"Many individuals in this city have made great sacrifices to do their part and more. There are many examples of individuals who have made extraordinary sacrifices that they may make a contribution to the war effort. Much credit is due to them and to the general public as a Kelowna spirit."However, even in Kelowna there are some who have not pulled their weight on this job. I appeal to those people to reconsider. If they have not subscribed yet, to ask themselves of what use their money will be if we lose the war. If they have subscribed, I would ask them to search their conscience and see if it will allow them to be proud of their subscription.Remember, that by our actions today we will be judged for the rest of our lives."

Katie proves to Jack how easily Jams and Jellies are made with CERTOJACK: If that marvellous jam you made the other day was a first attempt, I'll eat my hat!KATIE: Then watch me make another batch. You see, I happened to read about CERTO. It gives sure results. For jam I only need a one-minute to two-minute boil... for jelly a half-minute to a minute!KATIE: There now! You saw how little juice had time to boil away? That means I get about one half more jam or jelly than if I had used old-fashioned methods.JACK: Quick, easy and economical! Maybe I spoke too soon!KATIE: You certainly could! See this book of tested recipes? I have only to follow the recipe for the

Courier Reporter Takes Trip By Greyhound Over Big Bend

Over the King's Birthday weekend I did a spot of pottering. When you get down and analyze the situation it really wasn't any extensive pottering nor did it entail any hardship, but nevertheless, it was pottering of a sort.

The fact is, I was the first Kelowna person to travel over the Big Bend Highway on the new Greyhound bus schedule which went into effect at the first of June. At least, I have the word of Fred Thompson, local Manager of the Greyhound bus station, to that effect.

From the time I left Kelowna, shortly after three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, until I returned at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, I had travelled 819 miles of B.C. Highways Nos. 5, 1 and 4, and of this distance 656 miles were travelled on buses linked to the Greyhound chain.

From Kelowna my route went north to Revelstoke and then east to Golden. There I was met by my sister Helen and brother-in-law Doug and was taken in their coupe down the broad Columbia Valley to Windermere, a settlement which has stood out in the early history of the East Kootenays.

It seems almost incredible that so much territory could be covered in such a short time and with such a small amount of effort on my part. I flew over the big Greyhound bus left the Orchard City of the Okanagan, I found myself standing in front of the Golden Lodge, as fine a hotel as you would want to find anywhere, situated in that historic railroad city of Golden.

Skies were downcast and rain had been falling when I left Kelowna, and it was not until the bus had travelled fifty miles east from Revelstoke that the evening dawn discovered a cloudless sky.

When I departed from Kelowna I knew but one passenger and the driver. But before I landed at Revelstoke I felt that I had known most of the passengers for a long time.

That is the friendly spirit which is engendered on a bus drive. There were five soldiers from the basic training centre at Vernon on the main line, and at Revelstoke, and there were a fine bunch of 21-year-olds.

There was a certain amount of satisfaction to watch the change passengers. They greeted you with almost hostile stares when you entered the bus, a complete stranger, but as the miles slipped away their aloofness fell from them as if a cloak was particularly amused by one young chap who, prior to his call to the colors, had lived about fifteen miles from Revelstoke on a farm. As he grew in confidence grew when he had started out he had been quite silent, but his loquaciousness grew as Revelstoke drew nearer until he became rather boring, as he had a harsh, strident voice and his comments were not of particular import.

He edged his way forward to the driver and gave directions to where he wished to be dropped. Then he returned and, for the first time, took a seat beside me. For a moment he was silent, but his excitement at going home for a week-end to drop some remarks became overpowering. He blurted forth: "We're going to have a swell huckleberry crop this year."

Now, huckleberries have never interested me to any extent since the days when I avidly devoured "Huckleberry Finn," and to hear that this crop of luscious berries would prove a bountiful yield rather struck me between the eyes.

Fortunately, the bus was dark and he could not discern the credulousness written on my face, but he may not have been able to recognize it, anyway.

But I am straying from my story. I am to tell you of my bus ride.

Revelstoke was reached at 9:50, about fifty minutes late, as the bus lines along the way were doing a fine business and there were many changes of passengers and many interruptions in service.

One interruption I remember well. It was between Kelowna and Vernon. The driver had swung out and was in the process of passing a slow automobile when the emergency cord was yanked. John Chinaman rushed forward to disembark or rush or whatever you do to a bus.

The bus driver had marvellous control. All he said when the buzzer sounded at this critical moment was: "For Heaven's sake!"

But there was a good deal of emphasis in that remark. There was a four-hour wait in Revelstoke and, of course, I looked up a few pals who assisted me no end in spending that time. In fact, it was bus time before I knew it.

At 1:50, Sunday, I boarded the Western Canadian Greyhound bus and set forth for Golden. I thought I would stay awake and make out the terrain as best I could in the semi-darkness, but the cushions were soft and comfortable and the hour late, and I was snoozing in no time.

When I awoke it was daylight and the driver, in answer to my query, informed me we were sixty miles out of Revelstoke and about forty miles from Boat Encampment.

It was at this historical spot that Premier T. D. Pattullo severed the silken ribbon on June 29 last and thus officially opened the main link in the Trans-Canada Highway—the Big Bend Highway. It was my privilege to have been there on that occasion and to hear the "brass hats" extol the wonders of the road and the beauties of the surrounding country.

The Big Bend takes you into the heart of the Selkirk, and there are many snow-capped peaks towering into the skies, to be wreathed in filmy clouds, to be observed from the Big Bend.

There is the famous Silver Tip falls, which causes the passengers to gasp in amazement. One passen-

TWO YOUNG MEN UPSET IN BOAT

Sudden Severe Gale Tips Sail Boat—Ferry to Rescue

Earl Ward and Leo Moranda, in a sailboat, had a nerve-racking experience last Thursday afternoon, when their boat tipped over on Okanagan Lake during the short but fierce windstorm which swept across the Valley. This storm was a "clap," end of the violent electric storm which disrupted traffic in Vancouver.

Fortunately, the ferry was crossing near the spot where the craft tipped over, and the two young men were brought on board the Pendozi. The fire truck with the inflatable was on the spot but was not needed, as the boat passengers suffered no hurt.

The bus takes the jolt but only passes a small portion along to its inmates.

Although I happen to be a native son of the province, I bow my head in shame to tell that never before have I visited the Columbia Valley. There are too many people like me in B.C. who have never really investigated the many interesting and scientifically beautiful portions of this great and vast country west of the Rockies.

I cannot say that the Columbia Valley holds any advantages over the Okanagan, but it has its points of interest, and it was entirely new to this traveller, so naturally it had an appeal.

In fact, for the first time I was privileged to see an old-fashioned sheep wagon, a relic of yesteryear which is still in service. I did not enquire too closely if the sheep or the herder occupied this small covered contraption, or whether they both lived there.

Deer could be seen from the roadside on several occasions but no bears came forth for inspection, although I was assured that, given the right circumstances, all manner of wild game might be visible.

Windermere has a pretty setting which deserves a far greater population. It has many of Kelowna's advantages, as it is situated on lovely Lake Windermere, but only a few people have shared this thought.

In fact, in an area 170 miles in length there are less than five thousand people residing. In conformity with most parts of Canada, of course, this provides an economic difficulty.

At Edgewater, we were welcomed by those well-known ex-Kelownians, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard "Chap" Gaddes, who made us feel at home in a jiffy.

And then on to Windermere to stretch out and talk over other days in the Okanagan, relaxing after travelling for more than four hundred miles.

That evening, I was honored with the opportunity of viewing at close hand one of the finest tourist centres in the Columbia Valley—Radium Hot Springs. Nestling quietly in the mountains, this verdant valley paradise strikes you at first glance as something straight from Hollywood. Government-owned and controlled, this spot, tucked securely in the hills, is excellently arranged and is famous throughout the continent. I was informed that over the May 24th week-end, 1,170 persons bathed in the hot waters of these famous springs.

But my pleasant visit came to an end all too soon, and Monday evening I was driving back with Doug and Helen to Golden, there to enjoy a fine supper, check over the lack of Okanagan publicity folders at Golden Lodge and assure the hospitable Mrs. Valentine that this situation would be remedied immediately.

At 9:30 o'clock I boarded the purring sleek bus speedster and departed for Revelstoke, which was reached at 4 a.m. Instead of waiting at Revelstoke for a bus which would take me through to Vernon without a stop, I decided to hop the Vancouver-bound bus and drop off at Grindrod.

And here I am, in a small cafe, next to the Grindrod Motors, operated by a pioneer resident of Grindrod for the past forty-five years, pounding out my rambling story of one of the most pleasant week-end trips it has been my privilege to take.

Oh, I almost forgot. Due to a special week-end fare, the return trip from Kelowna to Golden was only $8.75, plus the new tax. Otherwise I would never have had such a pleasant time, what with the Victory Loan, income tax, war savings stamps, etc., etc.

Well, it's now 8:45; time I was going to work.

WINFIELD

S. Edwards, Chas. Draper and W. J. Cow, of Winfield, attended to Farmers' Institute, District G convention held at Grindrod on June 9th. They were motivated by Mrs. Arnold and report a splendid convention.

Sadie Draper recently passed her Junior Matriculation exams at the Kelowna High School, with high honors. Arthur Pollard has also successfully passed his exams in the same school.

F. C. Brown motored up from the Coast at the week-end to look over his interests here. While in Winfield he placed a new man, Mr. Milne, in charge of a part of his interests here.

Mrs. R. Berry is still a patient in the Kelowna General Hospital. Her recovery is not so rapid as her friends could wish for.

After three weeks in the same hospital, Mrs. P. H. P. Griess returned home a week ago much improved in health.

Quilts etc., still being made and shipped for the use of bombed Britons.

Mrs. John Edmunds was a passenger on the C.N.R. on Saturday last heading for Seattle, via Vancouver.

NOTED PRAIRIE POETESS APPEARS AT PEACHLAND

Miss Edna Jaques Gives Charming Recital Before Large Audience

Miss Edna Jaques, noted prairie poetess, gave a recital of some of her own poetry in the Municipal Hall at Peachland, on Thursday night. Her poetry was interspersed with personal comment and anecdotes which highlighted her poems and delighted the fair sized crowd. Besides the Peachland crowd, a number of Westbankers travelled down to hear Miss Jaques.

Rev. George Pringle introduced the poetess, stating that Miss Jaques was completing a Dominion-wide tour which she began in Toronto. Miss Jaques, in opening her recital, remarked that she was there to give her only gift—poetry. Her first two poems were "To a Clothesline" and "Timberline". Her third offering was "Would I be Brave", inspired by Britain's gallant civilians. She said that this poem was cut from a newspaper and sent to England. A woman wrote a letter to Miss Jaques thanking her for the poem and telling her that the clipping was posted up in an A.R.P. shelter. Her next poem was "Homebuddies", dedicated to her grandfather. She digressed for a moment to say whimsically: "A person to go a lecture tour must have love of people, the gall of Hitler and the faith of Abernethy." Her last three selections were "The Great Grandfather", "Child Refugees", inspired in Union Station, Toronto, and "For the Queen", dedicated "to that lovely woman."

The meeting was opened by "O Canada" and closed by the National Anthem. Mrs. Clements and Mrs. Watt sang a duet during the evening.

Hamish Macneil has received his call to the R.C.A.F. and will leave on June 17.

C. C. Heighway has been appointed official delegate to the B.C.F. G.A. convention in Kelowna.

Ted Topham, who is stationed with the R.C.A.F. in Macdonald, Sask., is home on furlough.

Douglas Renfrew is staying at Kelowna at the home of Mrs. E. Barton.

A. Mackay returned recently from Vancouver, where he spent the winter.

J. H. Pasemko returned this week from Vancouver and left shortly for Chase.

Ralph Dent, of Edmonton, is visiting his sister, Mrs. G. Cousins.

Mrs. Brown displayed a large lampshade she had just bought.

Mrs. Brown: "Isn't that perfectly lovely, dear?"

Mr. Brown (looking anything but pleased): "If you wear that to church tomorrow, you'll go alone."

Local Citizens Pay Tribute To Judge J. D. Swanson as He Holds Final Court in Kelowna

Thirty-one Years of Faithful Service in County Court Here is Brought to Close—Unfailing Courtesy Exhibited to All is Stressed by Legal Profession—Dignity of Court was Upheld at all Times—Board of Trade Tenders Informal Civic Banquet in his Honor

KELOWNA, through its City Council, Board of Trade and Bar Association, paid fitting homage this week to Judge J. D. Swanson, who is retiring from the County Court judgeship after a record of 31 years service in the administration of justice. He conducted his last session of the County Court in Kelowna on Tuesday morning and after an extremely short sitting the members of the legal profession in Kelowna, together with three members from Penticton, paid their respects to His Honor.

Judge Wilson, of the Cariboo, will be Acting Judge for the Kamloops-Okanagan district until a new appointment is made.

On Monday evening, an informal dinner was held at the Royal Anne Hotel, presided over by R. G. Rutherford, President of the Kelowna Board of Trade. A scroll, signed by all persons present, was presented to His Honor Judge Swanson. Besides the executive of the Board of Trade, which had sponsored the banquet, there were members of the City Council, United Church, I.O.O.F., Kelowna Hospital Society, Canadian Club, Rotary Club, Gyro Club, Junior Board of Trade, the legal profession, Capt. C. R. Bull, M.L.A., Dr. C. W. Dickson, County Court Registrar, E. M. Carruthers, J.P., J. B. Beale, J.P., Sergeant A. Macdonald, and Dr. B. F. Boyce and J. F. Reekie, old friends.

Great Service
"We have gathered here tonight to thank you for the wonderful service which you have done for this Valley, a greater service than many of us realize," declared Acting Mayor O. L. Jones, who made the presentation of the scroll.

He went back through the years to the ancient laws and returned to the present day, when the law of force only is known in Germany. There is no question of justice in Germany, he emphasized. Law is a matter of expediency, a fine example of the high type of men selected for the bench in Canada.

He drew a fine comparison with the law in the known and respected by many," he concluded, quoting Sir H. Wotton's stirring verse, "Character of a Happy Life."

Honestly Appreciated
"It has been a great privilege to have dispensed the King's justice for over three decades and to hear that my work has been honestly appreciated," replied His Honor. "Since announcing my retirement, both Mrs. Swanson and I have been overwhelmed by these kind appreciations."

Judge Swanson harked back to old times in Kelowna, of the Board of Trade of twenty years ago, of old cronies whom he knew so well. "Tonight I am leaving my work, the administration of justice without fear or favor. This is the principle for which we are fighting in the world today, that we may be able to retain the administration of justice as against the rule of force."

"We are in this fight to a finish. We are fighting for right against evil, to preserve this sacred right for our people," he continued, showing a good deal of honest emotion.

"I have been identified with this Valley long before it reached prosperity, and I know many of the men who developed this country. As long as I live I will treasure in my heart the memory of the friendships I have made and the kindnesses you have shown me in these many years."

Human Side of Law
"It has always been my desire to administer justice not as a cold system but as a human system, as the law is really an expression of the will of the people. It is for the judge to interpret and administer the law, not to create it, and human relations enter largely into this administration."

"In the British rule of justice, great men have founded a great rule of life. It is really no wonder the people of Great Britain, Canada, the United States and throughout the Empire have such a great pride of British justice. It is a privilege for me and my fellow administrators to be able to interpret and carry on this great British justice."

"I wish you all happiness in your own lives and may God bless you," he concluded.

As a friend of many years' standing, John Reekie paid a simple tribute to the departing judiciary, quoting: "Wherever you stay, wherever you go, May the beautiful flowers of happiness grow."

In conclusion, President Rutherford stressed the main point, the dignity with which Judge Swanson has always conducted the County Court sessions throughout his territory.

"We appreciate the dignity with which you have carried out your duties," he said. "We regret you are retiring from your official duties, but I know we in Kelowna will appreciate seeing you at any time."

"When you return from the Coast to Kelowna and the Okanagan, you will find an equable climate and friends who will be glad to greet you."

Final Court Session
On Tuesday morning, in the County Court chambers, a small but representative group witnessed the final session of the Court to be presided over by Judge Swanson. They witnessed the last Kelowna resident to be recommended by the Judge for naturalization as a Canadian citizen.

Julius Hanet, of Rutland, was this fortunate man. He is a native of Poland but can speak German and Russian, besides his native tongue. He came before Judge Swanson highly recommended by several prominent citizens of the district and Judge Swanson expressed his pleasure in being able to recommend Mr. Hanet to the proper authorities in Ottawa as a man expected to become a good citizen of Canada.

He stressed that the privilege of becoming a British citizen is an important one and a privilege which is not often granted during time of war.

In considering, a short time later, for probate the will of the late G. A. Fisher, Judge Swanson mentioned a very good friend of his. The late Mr. Fisher was a good and Christian gentleman, efficient, with a clever family and a very fine wife, stated His Honor.

Expresses Regret
E. C. Weddell, who appeared before Judge Swanson as a legal practitioner 28 years ago, was the first lawyer to express his regret at Judge Swanson's coming retirement after 31 faithful years of service.

Every speaker stressed Judge Swanson's unflinching loyalty to legal representatives, witnesses and accused throughout his many years on the bench and the great dignity with which he encompassed his County Court sessions.

"Your record at the bar and bench will live long in history," declared Mr. Weddell. "Thirty-one faithful years on the bench is a long time in any man's lifetime. We especially have appreciated your unfailing courtesy and patience which you have always shown to the members of the bar. No man ever left this court and was able to say that he had not had a fair trial."

"You have earned the rest before you and we hope that both you and Mrs. Swanson will live to see the dark shadow now over the world today wiped away."

No Discourteous Word
"In twenty years of legal practice in Kelowna, I cannot ever recall hearing a discourteous or hasty word spoken by Your Honor," declared H. V. Craig, in paying his tribute. "This has always been one of the most dignified courts in Canada and has been made that by your extraordinary dignity, despite crowded conditions as they existed in the old Morrison Hall."

T. F. McWilliams, now Magistrate for Kelowna, harked back through the years and declared that his first appearance in court as a member of the legal fraternity was before Judge Swanson in Vernon.

"You have always held before us a respect of law and through the years have increased and deepened our realization of the greatness, magnitude and dignity of this thing we call law," declared Magistrate McWilliams. "That induces will and the kindly simple human touch which he exhibited with children."

He stressed His Honor's courteous and friendly attitude in court and the kindly simple human touch which he exhibited with children. "You can be sure that, going from us now, you will not be forgotten."

"The kindness and consideration which you have always exhibited to young, inexperienced lawyers is not easily forgotten," declared D. C. Fillmore, whose only regret was that he had not associated for a longer time with Judge Swanson.

"Your faithful service over so many years has earned for you a retirement which few can claim."

ELDERLY RESIDENT OF GLENMORE HAS PASSED AWAY

Edward Storey Vint, 72, Was Laid to Rest Last Thursday Afternoon

One of the older residents of Glenmore, Mr. Edward Storey Vint, aged 72 years, passed away on Tuesday, June 10th, in the Kelowna General Hospital, which he had entered that morning. Deceased had been born in Scotland, and had resided in Regina, Sask., before coming to Glenmore twenty-two years ago. While in Regina, he had been employed as tailor for the R.C.M.P. He is survived by one son, James who resides in Glenmore.

The Kelowna Furniture Co. Funeral Service had charge of the funeral which was conducted by Rev. W. W. McPherson, on Thursday afternoon. The casket was banked with flowers and the pallbearers were G. H. Moubrey, Chas. Hawes, Sam Pearson, Jr., Jack Ward, J. M. Brydon and Wm. Short.

The annual Open Day and shower, which was held on Thursday last at the Preventorium, was a decided success. A large crowd was in attendance and many donations of foodstuffs, such as canned fruit, vegetables and eggs were received.

A representative from the Entomological Department of the Kelowna Laboratory was in the district on Monday checking up on mosquito conditions and the work which had been done by those in charge of mosquito control. So far, the weather has been very favorable to mosquitoes but as yet there are no complaints of the pests in Glenmore, so that this year it cannot be said that the mosquitoes which are in Kelowna's heart of heart are coming in from Glenmore. There has been about the same amount of oil used in the sloughs and water holes as was used last year.

Mrs. Frank Hawkey entered Kelowna General Hospital on Thursday of last week for medical treatment.

Mrs. Lloyd Robertson, of Vancouver (nee Gwen Snowsell), arrived on Thursday last and is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Snowsell. Her husband, who is in the army, has recently gone east.

The recent heavy rains have increased and Harold McInnis, of Penticton, then expressed their appreciation of the times when Judge Swanson had taken over County Court sittings in Penticton district. Mr. Pincott stressed Judge Swanson's great courtesy and patience as well as his courtesy. "I never had a case before Judge Swanson when I did not have the feeling that I had had a fair hearing. My regret is to say goodbye," declared Mr. Colquhoun.

"The profound concern exhibited by Judge Swanson for the liberty of the subject, one of the fundamentals of justice for which we are fighting today, has always been a trait I have greatly admired," contributed Mr. McInnis.

"We are sorry to see you go. You have always impressed us by your knowledge of law and the humanity which actuated your findings and swayed your judgments," declared C. W. Dickson, County Court Registrar. "We hope that in your hobbies, your appreciation of literature and poetry and delving into the history of this Valley, you will find many years of happiness ahead."

Each speaker also paid tribute to Mrs. Swanson and the retiring judge spoke feelingly on the help which Mrs. Swanson has been to him. "If I have displayed a courtesy to you gentlemen, it has come easily, through the teachings of my Highland mother and my dear Highland wife."

Judge Swanson went back through fifty years of association with the law, to frontier days on the prairies shared by him and his wife, he stressed the traditions of British justice, the great need for Christianity in the world today, and the wonderful traditions of Great Britain which are handed down to us of the British Empire.

He asked his small audience to picture with him the wonderful sight of the little children of Canada, with their arms happily entwined, no matter what the race, and compare that picture with the horrors of Europe.

But, most of all, he stressed the importance of traditions, and their bearing on all our lives.

Before the court was concluded, E. C. Weddell, on behalf of the Bar Association, made a presentation to His Honor.

MOSQUITO MENACE BEING COMBATTED

Ald. Sutherland Reports Progress to Council

"We are doing everything possible to combat the mosquito menace," Ald. G. W. Sutherland informed the Kelowna Council on Monday night. It was stated by some that mosquitoes had not been noticed to the same extent this year as in former years, but Ald. Sutherland warned that, with so much rainy weather late in the season, the mosquitoes may become a serious menace this summer.

Ald. Sutherland also assured the Council, when queried by Ald. Parkinson, that the stop signs and other street and traffic signs would be erected by the works department within a few days. Discarded pipe from the domestic water department proved the Glenmore water situation greatly, and four irrigations are available as from May 26.

ment is being used for the sign standards, he stated.

A Message from the Life Insurance Men of Canada

Again responding to the call of the Government, Life Insurance Companies have made available their entire sales organizations to assure the success of the Victory Loan . . . . As true Canadians, we must back up our gallant fighting forces in this stern struggle against tyranny and aggression . . . . Any sacrifices that our Country calls upon us to make are small compared to the sacrifice made by the heroic citizens in war-torn Britain . . . . The need is urgent . . . . Let us all buy Victory Bonds to the limit of our ability.

K. C. MacDonald to Continue Fight for Collective Bargaining

BILL SHELLY AMazes WITH LEGERDEMAIN

Vancouver Business Man's Great Repertoire of Black Magic Mystifies Two Big Kelowna Audiences

Two packed houses at the High School auditorium were completely mystified on Wednesday and Thursday of last week when William Shelly, an amateur purveyor of legerdemain, donated his services in aid of the war effort. The shows were sponsored by the Rotary Club of Kelowna in aid of Kelowna War Activities Committee funds.

Mr. Shelly, a retired Vancouver business man who was Minister of Finance in the Talmie government, so mystified his large audience with his repertoire of tricks that they applauded him vociferously.

Crowning act was the finale, when four girls placed their hands on a birdcage containing a bird. Mr. Shelly's hands were over the cage, and the girls' hands completely surrounded his hands and the cage.

But when he mumbled a few words and said "Pouff!" the cage and the bird vanished into thin air. The girls and the audience certainly don't know where and only Mr. Shelly can tell them.

But this was just one of scores of tricks. He cast fishing rods into the audience and had goldfish appear on the end of the line more expertly than Joe Spurler could ever hope to drag in trout from his favorite fishing haunts.

He had such a repertoire of astounding stunts that he had his big audience gasping. Black magic, that's what it was. Cards, coins, rats and a most surprising collection of things appeared as if from out of the blue or vanished into thin air just as rapidly.

His work with twelve steel rings, apparently solid, which he joined together and brought into various positions with quick flicks of the wrist, was a highlight of the performance.

At the intermission on Thursday, Mr. Shelly was asked to add another number which indicated his amazing memory. On a blackboard, sixteen squares were marked out and a member of the audience was asked to pick any number between 40 and 100. The number chosen was 59. In the various squares, as they were called out by number, Mr. Shelly gave directions as to the numbers which were to be entered.

In eighteen different ways, groups of four numbers entered in the squares were found to total the serial number of 59.

A splendid ten-piece orchestra organized by the Rotary Club of Kelowna entertained the audience between acts, while at the intermission J. M. DeGeer received hearty applause for his two solos, and the two Holitsky sisters with their steel guitars were encircled with enthusiasm.

J. E. Reekie gave a few brief words on the Victory Loan campaign and the Allies' war effort in general, on Thursday. He stressed the value of individual prayer and pointed to the number of times already in this conflict when prayer has been answered.

Dr. J. W. N. Shepherd, President of the Kelowna Club of Kelowna, introduced Mr. Shelly at the outset of the performance, which did not conclude until nearly eleven o'clock.

The term "Christian" was first used at Antioch, Syria. The word "Bible" was derived from Byblos, Phoenician port before 3000 B.C., through paper exported from there.

Minister of Agriculture Tells District G Farmers' Institute Session He Will Not Falter in Drive Towards Goal

Firm determination to maintain his policy of striving to give primary producers the same rights of collective bargaining as those enjoyed by other branches of industry was voiced by Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, at the 21st annual meeting of District "G," Farmers' Institutes at Grindrod on the King's birthday.

Dr. MacDonald said that primary producers had equal right to collective bargaining with all other groups and he intended to work to see that they were given power to control their own industry.

"I am not prepared to run back from this principle, because it is the only hope of economic salvation for the farmers of British Columbia," he declared.

His statement that he had suggested to Ottawa that a board be set up to care for the surpluses of primary food products of Canada was applauded by the delegates. He explained that it should be the function of such board to keep the surpluses from market glutting and consequent depressed prices through processing, storing and controlled export marketings.

The minister felt that eventually some plan would have to be adopted to meet Canada's surplus problem.

Criticism Board Dr. MacDonald's declaration developed from a resolution, introduced by the Malakwa Local for purposes of discussion, calling for the abolishing of marketing boards. At the outset, this resolution was regarded as a purely academic matter.

Resolutions which found full and instant approval were those which provided that retail merchants, restaurants and hotels be thanked for past co-operation in respect of sale of use of B.C. products and that they be urged to accentuate this policy. This will be pressed particularly by District "G" on the merchants, restaurants and hotels in the Interior in respect of Interior products, such as butter.

Another resolution, passed unanimously, called for the establishing of a B.C. Dairyman's Association to the end that the interests of the primary producers, engaged in this industry, might be co-ordinated and protected with a due regard to consumers as well as themselves.

Canadian Federation The Federation of Agriculture movement received warm support and one resolution submitted to the Canadian Federation a request for consideration of the matter of a proper return to farmers for their services and products which, in reality, means a parity of prices standard.

Another proposal that met with the full support of the Institute delegates was that the Canadian Federation of Agriculture be requested to draw up a national program for the reconstruction of the farm community so that agriculture might secure its proper share of the national income.

R. Wood, speaking in support of the resolution, pleaded for a nation-wide movement and policy to save agriculture. It was apparent he thought that while the farmer was getting too little, other interests in the community were getting too much, and he looked for a more equitable distribution of the national income in the future.

Taxing Farm Land A Winfield proposal which objected to the policy of taxing the farmer on his land, irrespective of whether he was making a profit or not, and asking that the government be urged to tax the farmers on the basis of profit as was everyone else, was defeated, largely on the grounds that it was too broad a complete rewriting of the Municipal Act.

Considerable discussion revolved about a suggestion that the special educational grant of $50.00 per teacher in all school districts, proposed by the Provincial government, should be paid instead of the teachers' superannuation fund, in place of the 7 per cent tax on teachers' salaries which is now being advocated.

The Hon. K. C. MacDonald raised his voice against it, saying that he believed that the farmers, in proposing such measures, were overlooking their proper field of activity. "Frankly, I think that conventions of this kind ought to confine themselves to rural matters and rural taxation. You get into the difficulties when you get into the city's affairs. Finally, however, the meeting gave its support to the proposal.

SAMUEL R. BARBER DIES IN ONTARIO

Brother of Three Kelowna Men Visited Here in 1909

From Wolseley, Sask., comes word of the death of Samuel Robert Barber, a pioneer of that district, who died at Kenora, Ont., on Thursday, June 13, 1941, coming west to the Kelowna district to visit his brother, who came to Kelowna in 1909 on the death of his mother. A few years later he again visited Kelowna, where he brought his children's remains to the Kelowna Cemetery for burial.

THREE MEN SEEK JOB AS POUNDKEEPER

H. G. Marshall Submits Lowest Tender—Council Will Decide Next Monday

Three applications for the position of poundkeeper and dog tax collector were received by the Kelowna City Council on Monday evening, following publication of advertisement calling for tenders to be submitted stating salary required.

The lowest bid was from H. G. Marshall, garbage collector, who asked $35 per month as remuneration. He would do most of his work in connection with the new work in his own time, he informed the Council by letter.

Second bid was from the present poundkeeper and dog tax collector, William Blackwood, who wanted $50 per month, with no additions or deductions from that amount. The city would collect all amounts in connection with pound and would be responsible for all costs in the same connection.

The third application was from A. Ashby, who wanted a remuneration of $75 per month. The Council agreed to leave its decision in this matter over for one week so that further details concerning this department might be obtained and more figures studied.

Ald. G. W. Sutherland moved that Mr. Marshall be given the position, but he did not press the motion when other aldermen wished to delay the decision for a week.

City Engineer H. A. Blakeborough pointed out, when queried by the Council, that if Mr. Marshall should be given the position, it should be understood that he must do the work in his own time, as the garbage collection occupies his full normal working time now.

Ald. W. B. Hughes-Games suggested that Mr. Ashby might be given other work, besides that of poundkeeper and dog tax collector, but no further consideration was

Gyro Club Submits Statement on Celebration Costs

May 24th, Kelowna's big civic day arranged by the Gyro Club of Kelowna and underwritten by the town of $200 by the City Council, will only cost the taxpayers $73.52, the Council was informed, on Monday night. The agreement to underwrite the costs was reached when it was decided that no charge would be made for admission to the grounds during the big patriotic day.

The Gyro Club submitted an audited statement to the Council on Monday, showing receipts and disbursements for the day. Receipts amounted to $377.38 and disbursements were $450.90. Expenditures follow: Advertising, $79; bands, $43.50; troops from No. 110 Training Centre, $171.50; May Queen ceremony, $88.35; sports and track meet, $42.40; pet parade,

"We should compliment the Gyros on keeping down expenditures and for the splendid turnout during the day," declared Acting Mayor O. L. Jones. "They could have let their expenditures run far higher, considering the amount of $200 we guaranteed, but they showed the proper spirit towards the City."

BELL-IRVING CREDITED WITH TEN WICKETS

Vernon Preparatory School Bowler Sets Record with Splendid Performance to Help Team Win 97-74

Masterful bowling by Bell-Irving, leader of the Vernon Preparatory School junior cricketers, was responsible for the victory of the Vernon team at home on Saturday afternoon, June 14, when Kelowna juniors were beaten 97 runs to 74.

Bell-Irving accounted for ten Kelowna wickets, quite a remarkable feat. And the Kelowna batsmen only succeeded in scoring twenty runs off his bowling for an average of two runs per wicket. Tretheway allowed 49 runs with no wickets falling to his deliveries.

The two Carr-Hilton boys showed up well in the bowling analysis, taking five wickets for 19 runs.
Kennedy accounted for four wickets for thirty runs and Mortimer one wicket for 32 runs.

Smith was top batsman for Vernon, running up 35 tallies before he was caught by Kennedy. Bell-Irving also made it tough for the Kelowna bowlers, accounting for 28 runs before being bowled by Kennedy.

Guller Kennedy's batting performance was outstanding for Kelowna as he tallied 51 runs before Bell-Irving bowled him.

Next Sunday, Kelowna's cricket entry in the Spencer Cup league entertains the Vernon Farmers here.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

LIKE LETTER FROM HOME
Re: C.C.C. CFC
Canadian Army (Overseas),
April 28, 1941.

To the Editor, Kelowna Courier:
I was very glad to get The Kelowna Courier and I hope you will thank the Gyrus Club for me. It's just like getting a letter from home every time The Courier arrives.
There are no other Kelowna boys in this company, but all the boys in my unit read it from page to page.
I beg to remain,
Yours thankfully,
(K99606) T. P. WHITE.

When your first breakfast mouthful makes you think...

M-M! THAT WAKES MY APPETITE!

That's when you can say
"Thanks to Kellogg's Corn Flakes!"

Flavour... the rich, mellow, delicious flavour of Kellogg's Corn Flakes... flavour which gives you the kind of appetite which actually helps digestion, there's the secret of Kellogg's enormous popularity!

Popularity attested, year after year, by the thousands of Canadian housewives who report Kellogg's Corn Flakes their family's favourite cereal.

Keep two or three packages in the house all the time. With cream and sugar they give you needed food energy. And should you breakfast out, ask for Kellogg's in the triple-wrapped individual package.

"Tops" say housewives. "Right!" say experts. Asked specifically by trained investigators "What brand of corn flakes do you think tastes best?" four out of five Canadian housewives said "Kellogg's."
Asked to choose between several unidentified brands, taste experts unhesitatingly chose Kellogg's! Those are the facts!
Your family will prefer them, too!

Treat them to Kellogg's Corn Flakes every morning. Order several packages today. Two convenient sizes. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

INSTALLMENTS

You can buy your Victory Bonds by instalments—ten percent down; the rest on easy terms over six months.
Pledge your credit and buy all the Victory Bonds you can, on the installment plan. When you have paid for them, your dollars will be earning a good interest return. Your canvasser, bank, trust company or Victory Loan headquarters will explain and take your order.

HELP TO KEEP THE "FRONT LINE" AWAY FROM YOUR DOORSTEP

Urge Your Menfolk to Buy Victory Bonds NOW

You can no longer depend upon the Atlantic Ocean for protection. Any day between breakfast time and noon, a bombing plane can fly from Greenland to our own Maritimes and Quebec—a mere matter of 5 hours; to Winnipeg in less than 9 hours; to Vancouver in 10½ hours. From German-occupied France, bombladen planes can carry destruction to Toronto, Niagara, Ottawa and Montreal in less than 10 hours. Night and day, in the British Isles and on the sea, in and out of uniform, men defend your home from attack as surely as though they stood and fought at your own doorstep. Will you help to supply them with tools to carry on the fight—your fight? Will you help to make certain that there shall never be an "occupied" Canada?

Your Government needs some of your savings to buy more ships, planes and tanks—munitions of war that will hurry the return of our men to their homes, insure our way of life. Lend your money by buying Victory Bonds NOW!

The money you invest in Victory Bonds will come back to you with interest.
Lend your money. We must win this war. Lend to preserve the things that money cannot buy. Urge your menfolk to protect your home by investing in Victory Bonds now. All that you hold dear is threatened.

HOW TO BUY

Give your order to the canvasser who calls on you. Or place it in the hands of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company. Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1000 and larger. Canvasser, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.

tent, and formerly of Kamloops, and brother of Mrs. Wilson McGill, of Kelowna. The ceremony was performed by Rev. O. L. Jull, on Saturday, May 10, at 7 p.m. in St.
Mark's Anglican Church, Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Atkinson are fishing at Sorrento this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. Welch, and Miss Rosie Owen, of Pentent, spent the week-end in Kelowna.
Mrs. Welch and Miss Owen rode to Kelowna on horseback, over the Chute Lake road.

Mrs. James Purvis and Miss Audrey MacLeod entertained at a tea and a miscellaneous shower on Saturday afternoon, at Mrs. Purvis' home on Bernard Avenue, honoring Miss Josephine MacLachlan, whose wedding to Mr. Don Fillmore takes place later in the summer.

Nearly forty of Miss MacLachlan's friends were present.

Peonies and roses formed the floral decorations, and Mrs. J. Dayton Williams, Mrs. F. R. E. De Hart and Mrs. Charles Gaddes presided at the beautifully appointed tea table. Miss Jean Rowell, Miss Evelyn Mac-Queen and Miss Mary Little assisted their hostesses as servitors.

Mr. and Mrs. George Patrick of Revelstoke, were visitors in Kelowna over the week-end.

Mrs. James Purvis and little daughter, Heather, are visiting in Pentent this week.

Mrs. H. A. Shirreff entertained friends at the tea hour last Thursday afternoon at the Willow Lodge.

LOVELY PEONIES SETTING FOR CEREMONY

Olive Daisy Charman and Etienne Justin Martin are United at Church of Immaculate Conception

White and deep rose peonies formed the lovely floral setting for the wedding ceremony, on Thursday morning, June 12th, at 9 o'- clock, at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, when Olive Daisy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
W. Charman, became the bride of Etienne Justin Marty, third son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Marty, Very Rev.
Father McKenzie officiated.

The attractive brunette bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor-length gown of white triple sheer, featuring short sleeves, high neckline and long, full sleeves. The skirt fell in soft folds from a deep inset waistband, and she wore a veil of silk net. Her bouquet was of red and white roses and blue corn flowers.

Miss Lillias Keovil, the bride's only attendant, chose a becoming floor-length frock of pale pink net, the full skirt having floral applique around the hemline, and her hat was a heart-shaped doll's hat on tone with her dress. She carried a bouquet of mauve sweet peas and mosses.

Arthur Marty attended his brother as best man, while Andrew Marty and John de Montreuil were the ushers.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's parents, on Rowell Avenue, where a profusion of colourful summer flowers was used in the reception rooms. Miss Joan Keovil and Miss Emille de Mont-reuil acted as servitors.

Mrs. Charman, the bride's mother, chose a smart afternoon frock of powder blue, with her hat and further accessories of white. Her corsage was of tawny colored tea roses.

Mrs. Marty, mother of the groom, was tastefully attired in a brown and white silk print afternoon dress with white accessories.

The toast to the bride was given by her father, to which the groom responded.

For travelling, the bride donned a dusky rose afternoon dress, with her hat and accessories of blue.

The motor honeymoon spent at Banff, Mr. and Mrs. Marty will reside at Winfield.

Corp. R. Olsen, of Vernon, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Elmore during the week-end.

George Handlen returned on Sunday from the Coast, where he had spent the past week.

W. T. L. Roadhouse and R. F.
Parkinson returned to Kelowna on Sunday from Ocean Falls.

Carl Dunaway and "Tiny" Wal-rod attended the Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner in Pentent last Thursday evening.

John Newton left on Tuesday evening for Esquimalt, where he will join the Royal Canadian Navy.

VOICES CRITICISM OF JUVENILES

Ald. Sutherland Says Aquatic Should Control Dances more Carefully

Criticism regarding conduct of juveniles at the Kelowna Aquatic Club was voiced by Ald. G. W. Sutherland on Monday night, when he voted against the payment of the annual grant to cover the Aquatic Club's payment of a dance hall licence. This has been the usual procedure for some years, as the Council has felt that the Aquatic is a semi-private organization which is doing a great deal of public service and should be entitled to a rebate of this licence fee. Ald. Sutherland, when asked why he opposed payment, stated that he had heard lots of criticism regarding juveniles at Aquatic dances. He suggested the management should take some action.

"I would suggest that you come down and see for yourself," replied Ald. R. F. Parkinson, who is Secretary-Manager of the Kelowna Aquatic Club.

There was no further discussion on the subject, as Ald. Sutherland stated that he did not wish to bring out undue publicity regarding this matter.

The annual $750 grant from the City to the Aquatic, as a payment towards the salaries of lifeguards and caretaker, was passed unanimously.

RUTLAND W.I. HEARS SPEAKER FROM OTTAWA

Miss Muriel Cameron Talks on Work to Provide New Outlets for Surplus Farm Commodities

The regular monthly meeting of the Rutland Women's Institute, held in the Community Hall on Wednesday afternoon, June 11th, was addressed by Miss Muriel Cameron, of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. The speaker's address was listened to with great interest, and the question period at the close was taken full advantage of by the members present.

Miss Cameron, in the course of her talk, outlined the efforts being made to find newer and better methods of processing and merchandising Canada's surplus farm commodities. Our problem here is not one of rationing, but of surplus, and she particularly singled out apples and poultry as "war casualties", with which the Consumers Service Branch is especially interested. The subject of diets and vitamins was dealt with in detail by the speaker in a clear and interesting manner.

Prior to the address by Miss Cameron, the local President, Mrs. J. Ansell, gave a concise report of the proceedings at the recent conference of Okanagan Institutes at Kelowna.

One item reported by the President resulted in immediate action by the Rutland Institute. A delegate from one Institute had reported that the conference had made a practice of each bringing a small quantity of tea to each meeting, and when a pound had been collected it was forwarded to an English Women's Institute to use at their meetings. The Rutland Institute unanimously decided to send a pound of tea and a pound of sugar to the English W.I. adopting as their special Institute one in Newcastle-on-Tyne, England.

Considerable disappointment was felt that members of the East Kelowna and Kelowna Institutes had been unable to attend this meeting to hear Miss Cameron, though arrangements had been previously made for them to do so and arrangements made to cater for a large attendance. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served to the local members and guests.

Open Pool June 25
At a recent meeting of the Rutland Park Society executive it was decided to open the swimming pool on June 25th, the day school is closed. Should the weather become warm this week-end, arrangements may be made to open the pool earlier, for afterwards only, if volunteer life-guards can be obtained. The tennis courts are now completely fenced and the wood-work has been painted, thanks to the efforts of Capt. C. R. Bull.

Funeral Service
The funeral of the late Peter Schwab was held on Saturday morning, June 14th, from the Rutland Catholic Church, Rev. Father A. L. DeLestre officiating. Interment was at the Roman Catholic Cemetery in Glenora, B.C.

The deceased was born in South Russia, in 1887, and came to Canada in 1906, residing in Saskatchewan until August, 1936, when he moved with his family to Armstrong. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife and nine children, of whom only four now reside at home. One daughter is a nun in a Roman Catholic convent in Saskatchewan, while the eldest son, Wendell, is a teacher at the Indian School at Kakawis, Vancouver Island.

Johns R.C.A.F.
Basil Bouché returned home from the coast on Tuesday, having completed his term at Normal School, followed by a short period of teaching. He expects to be home only for two weeks, however, as he has been accepted for report for duty at the end of this month.

The B.C. Fruit Board meeting for Rutland will be held in the community hall on Wednesday evening next. Some member of the board will be on hand to report to the growers on the year's activities, and to delegate to the nominating convention will be chosen.

Mrs. Annie Gray is a patient in the Kelowna Hospital at the present time. She is reported to be making favorable progress.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Fitzpatrick and Mrs. S. Fitzpatrick were visitors on Monday to Oliver, where Mr. Fitzpatrick's firm is engaged in building a new cold storage plant in connection with their branch house in that district.

The new Seventh Day Adventist Church is nearing completion, the building now being succeeded.

RED CROSS News Notes

The Canadian Red Cross Society has been fortunate enough to obtain some additional shipping space for the month of June and is most anxious to get as much civilian clothing and knitted comforts overseas as can possibly be managed.

Will you, therefore, urge your workers to redouble their efforts and to ship everything you possibly can to the provincial warehouse at your earliest convenience, requests Mrs. H. A. Tennant, Provincial Work Committee Chairman.

It is earnestly desired that there will be no slackening on the part of our workers since the need grows more urgent hourly and since we must do our utmost to encourage the people of Britain by our gifts, which we know are being so gratefully received and which really mean so much more than just clothes.

We beseech the Canadian women to rally to the cause of our brave defenders and, while we realize that it is a difficult time of year for many people, it is little enough to give a few hours each day to a job which we can still accomplish from the safety of comfortable workrooms or the shelter of our own homes.

A REMINDER: Urgent need is made for long-sleeved sweaters for army and navy (colored khaki and navy blue); gloves and mitts; the little cap and the little hat; and the little cap and the little hat.

Mrs. W. J. Allan, C.B.E., Provincial delegate to the Council of the Canadian Red Cross Society, at Toronto, on April 22, stated in her report:

"The work of British Columbia contrasted most favorably with that of the other provinces. In volume of supplies sent forward, we stood next to the great centres of population, Ontario and Quebec. The quality of our supplies was favored by the fact that the high ability of our workers was evident in our province when we saw some mistakes made elsewhere. I may say that British Columbia held the same good record throughout. In Canada, in campaign we stood third. Our publicity department was considered the best of any province, and at the commission meeting our records were held up as models for the other provinces."

"Dr. Routley, National Commissioner, pointed out especially the volume of help given by the men of the Navy and Merchant Marine. At our eastern seaports, clothing to the value of $104,305 had been given to the men of these two services. Many gratifying expressions of thanks were received, but the one which will always be especially treasured is a letter from the late Captain Fagan of the gallant ship Jervis Bay just before he sailed on his last voyage. On another occasion, a man of a battleship made a voluntary contribution of $500 as an evidence of their appreciation. All this work is done in addition to a monthly grant of $10,000 to the British Navy League to be expended between ten organizations which are charged with the care of men of the Navy and the Merchant Marine."

"Our blanket appeal of last summer resulted in 125,000 blankets being donated for the use of the Red Cross services. . . 163 ambulances were sent overseas to Great Britain, 26 being given to the R.C.A.F., and 50 more are at present in use in Canada."

"The report of the Women's War Work Committee indicated that 6,119,201 articles had been shipped overseas in 1940. The committee reported that 2,583,324 knitted comforts, 1,757,862 civilian clothing, 689,004 surgical dressings, 622,140 comforts and supplies distributed in Canada and Newfoundland were 985,143, making a grand total of 7,104,344."

"In January and February, 30,000 pieces of clothing were distributed to men of the Navy and Merchant Marine at Halifax."

"The Navy receives the benefit of 1,200 cubic feet of free space for shipping and additional space is made available to the Red Cross at the rate of 20 cents a cubic foot, although the commercial rate is 75 cents. Our shipments were carried in 202 steamers and 87,347 cases were shipped, the goods amounting in value to $2,944,928. The loss amounted to only 3 per cent of the total value of cargoes shipped during the year."

"In collaboration with the Women's Institutes of Ontario and British Columbia, jam and canned fruit had been sent overseas amounting to 102,508 pounds from Ontario and 18,260 pounds from B.C. The cost of this jam was about four cents per pound, exclusive of freight."

More About 1 BINGS FOR PROCESSING

planting are now available. There is a fair movement of bunched vegetables, sack carrots and beets. An active demand for cabbage is now being felt.

Supplies of all commodities, including hot-house tomatoes, are moving as fast as available.

Apple Sales Strong
Despite the inroads made by early crops of 1941 produce, apple sales throughout Canada continue strong, states Mr. McNair, with the result that the only holdings of Okanagan apples left are between 80 and 85 cars of Winesaps.

"We think that this entire quantity will be sold," was Mr. McNair's contention.

"In former years late apples barely stretched over until the new crop movement started but this year we have an unprecedented occurrence with the movement of as many cars of 1940 crop apples as there are cars of 1941 crop commodities available."

On Monday, Mr. McNair stated, 15 cars of foodstuffs moved out, eight of these being apples. On Tuesday, 19 cars went out of the Okanagan and 11 of these were apples.

'Teen Age Heroes

Boys in Beleaguered London Turn Into Fine Fire Fighters

(By Winifred Holmes)
Not all heroes of the war are in uniform.

Take Michael O'Connor, for instance. Michael is a boy of sixteen from the East end of London. And Mickey was leader of a boy "gang."

Now Mickey has turned his gang into a first-class company of fire-fighters and Civil Defence messengers.

He and his parents live in a tiny basement. "That's why I'm so small," says Mickey, who is not quite five feet tall. His father is a dock laborer and his mother a hospital cleaner.

Mickey himself is an office boy in a paper works. At night he goes on duty as an A.R.P. messenger, while his father and mother sleep in the crypt shelter of one of the historic old City churches.

One evening recently, Mickey reported at the Post for duty as usual. Bombs began to fall and the warden came to tell Mickey that he was given the job of taking an injured man through the "blitz" to the First Aid Centre.

Seven times he was sent out on his bicycle, but the raid was at its height, for the fire and ambulance services.

Then came a lull. Mickey wiped his forehead, had a cup of tea and a sandwich and sat down.

Before ten minutes had passed the guns were going again, overhead dived the bombers. Suddenly a "bread-basket" spilled its deadly contents on Mickey's street.

"Incendiaries!" He pedaled furiously round to the houses where members of his gang lived. "A packet by Old Ma's pub. Come on!" With their help, Mickey put out nine fires!

More incendiaries on the old church where, among 350 other people, Mickey's parents were sheltering.

Two fires began to blaze on the roof. Armed with a bucket of water and a stirrup-pump, Mickey climbed a narrow staircase to the roof. There he fought the flames single-handed until the fire began to die.

When Bill Coppola, a fifteen-year-old railway worker in a West Country town, wanted to join the Auxiliary Fire Service, his first test was to see if he was too young. But he persisted and was reluctantly enrolled.

One night the station to which he was attached was heavily attacked. High explosives screamed down and Bill lived under a coach for cover.

Then he heard a splutter as incendiary bombs fell on the building. The next minute he was running up a ladder to the roof. There he spent ten hectic minutes kicking the incendiaries to the ground before they could do any damage.

A still younger boy is 14-year-old Eric Smith, of South London. Because of his smallness and slenderness, he was able to save the lives of several people trapped under the wreckage of their house.

Rescue workers were digging frantically to reach the family buried beneath the rubble.

Eric heard the leader say that the only way to make a safe tunnel was through a small opening from which a fireplace had been removed.

"But it's too small for any of us to get through," he added despondently.

"I'll go," said Eric. The men hesitated. Owing to its dangerous nature, the work needed skilled handling. But there were several lives at stake.

So Eric got his way. Armed with an axe and a shovel, he squeezed into the tiny opening. Cramped and half-suffocated, he chopped and shovelled away for hours, while debris threatened to collapse on him at any moment.

At last he succeeded in making the opening big enough for a man to pass through, and finally the trapped people, two of whom were still alive, were brought out.

CAPT. H. ANGLE VISITS BRIEFLY

Kelowna Man Returns from England to Train Regiment

Capt. Harry Angle, former officer with the B. C. Dragoons in Kelowna, who left Canada for England in January, 1940, visited in Kelowna for a few days last week before leaving for Camp Borden, where he will assist in the final training of the 9th Armored Regiment.

Capt. Angle went overseas as a reinforcement officer of the Seaforth and later was second-in-command of the 2nd Reconnaissance Squadron. Prior to taking an extensive staff course, the first ever held in England by the Canadian Army, he was Canadian Liaison Officer at General Headquarters.

Speaking briefly to The Courier prior to his departure from Kelowna on Friday, Capt. Angle stated that the Canadian soldiers are confident in the Old Country but are anxious to get into action against the Nazis.

Food supplies have become limited, and the variety of food rationed to Canadian soldiers naturally has become restricted, but the program has been a gradual one and the men have accepted the changes as a matter of course. New Canadian troops landing in the Old Country will notice the change in diet much more than those in the First and Second Divisions who have been in England for some time.

AUXILIARY TO AQUATIC CLUB MAKES DONATION

Hand Over $100 to Create Building Painting Fund

The Ladies Aquatic Auxiliary held a supper meeting at the Aquatic on Tuesday evening, Mrs. Kay McKergow presided at the piano.

During the business meeting, a motion was passed giving the Aquatic directors $100.00 to create a fund for painting the Aquatic buildings.

The Auxiliary is also planning on purchasing new flower fixtures for the dance hall.

It is hoped that the club can sponsor a Wednesday night dance about the middle of July. Tentative plans have been made in this regard. The ladies will pay the admission price and generally carry out the Spinsters' idea. Costumes and decorations will be along the lines of a barn dance, and the whole affair promises to be of a most amusing nature.

The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be held on Tuesday evening, June 24th, as a beach party at the Rotary Beach.
